DOCTORS APPLAUD WHEN NUDE GIRL DANCES FOR THEM

DELEGATES FILL ROOM

TICKETS ARE $1 EACH

Scientific curiosity concerning the human form divine may be declared by delegates to the American Medical Association convention to have been their motive in attending a stag dance Tuesday night at the United Railways Music Hall, Grand and Folsom avenues.

A young woman, whom the doctors call "Fatima," pranced upon a platform, clad in her hair combs and stockings, and invited a gray-haired physician to remove her garters. He performed this gallantry amid such applause that one spectator cautioned the others that the noise might attract the police.

The show was arranged by the Entertainment Committee of the surgical section, and was attended by 250 physicians, who bought tickets at $1 each. Sandwiches, drinks and cigars were served by eight young women waitresses, who, when the dance began to become startling, screamed with embarrassment and fled from the hall.

Vaudeville acts by performers from the theaters and summer gardens started the program. But for the last act, "Fatima" tripped upon the stage, clad in an ulster.

To Oriental music by the orchestra, she began a supple dance, after throwing off the ulster. As the doctors applauded her gyrations, she removed her clothing piece by piece, beginning with a blue dress and progressing until only the stockings remained. The cheers became vociferous, until one spectator arose and shouted:

"If you make so much noise the police will raid the place."

The dancer assumed a hundred postures, ranging from the high kick to a reclining position on the floor. Finally, laughing, she called to one of the doctors, a man of venerable appearance, to come up on the stage and take off her garter. Amid laughter and cheers, he removed the article with a gallant air.

One Spectator 17 Years Old.

Among the waitresses were five from a cafe in the Pierce Building, in charge of Miss Allie Palmer. The others were: Marie Gleason, 17 years old; Josie Plank, Stella Hush and Katie Meyer. There were three other young girls from a restaurant in the Victoria Building.

"It was horrible," said Miss Palmer to a Post-Dispatch reporter, Thursday. "That awful creature began taking off all her clothes, but before she got to the end, we girls ran out of the hall. Those doctors enjoyed the sight immensely, and we could hear them cheering after we left."

Judge George H. Williams of the Circuit Court, who witnessed part of the program, expressed surprise to a Post-Dispatch reporter Thursday when informed concerning the dance in the nude. It was reported that he left the hall in indignation when the performance began to grow sensational, but this he denies.

"I left just before the dance started," he said, "as I had guests at my home to whom I wished to attend. I didn't know that the dance was in the nude, and have heard nothing about it. I was an invited guest at the entertainment."

When "Fatima" concluded her performance, she retired to the wings to don her clothes, and was compelled to respond to encore after encore.

DOCTOR BELIEVES THAT THERE MAY BE LEPERS IN ST. LOUIS

Doctors attending the convention of the American Medical Association were told Thursday afternoon that it was likely that several cases of leprosy existed in St. Louis. Dr. Isadore Dyer of New Orleans was the informant. Dr. Dyer is the founder of the Leper Home of Louisiana. He is an authority on leprosy.

Dr. Dyer told the delegates that while the existence of leprosy here might not be glaringly apparent, it could hardly be possible that any city as large as St. Louis was immune.

He recommended the establishment by the United States Government of a national institution for the study and care of lepers. He said symptoms of the disease are not studied carefully enough by physicians. He advocated a very minute diagnosis of all skin diseases in order that a difference of opinion that often arises in such cases would leave no room for doubt as to the existence of this dreaded malady.

Dr. Dyer is now treating 65 cases in his institutions. He says there are 100 known cases in New York and 30 in San Francisco.

PARK CONCERTS TONIGHT

Forest Park, Bafunno's Band, 7:30 to 10:30.

Lafayette Park, Schillinger's Band, 7:30 to 10:30.

An off day.

We told yesterday how, on Tuesday, the merchants of St. Louis favored the POST-DISPATCH with 68 columns of display advertising, while they were content to buy only 67 columns in the Globe-Democrat, Republic and Times combined.

Today we record the score of yesterday, Wednesday, an off day, which was

38 columns

of local commercial advertising, as against

35 columns

in the Globe-Democrat and Republic combined on the same day.

The same reasons we gave for Tuesday, Thursday and Friday supremacy are applicable to Wednesday.

The POST-DISPATCH not only outclasses a combination of ALL of its competitors in

but it is a clean newspaper, with all questionable medical, fake financial, or other objectionable advertisements ENTIRELY ELIMINATED FROM ITS COLUMNS.

Is there any wonder that merchants sell their merchandise promptly when advertised in a high-class newspaper like the POST-DISPATCH, with its big clean circulation?

CONVICTS CLEAR AWAY DEBRIS IN CYCLONE'S PATH

Three Buildings at State Prison Unroofed, but Escape Is Not Attempted.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., June 9.—A large force of convicts is clearing away the debris from the cyclone which struck the Penitentiary last night. Five structures, two of them cell buildings in which 1500 convicts were confined, were unroofed and partially wrecked.

Warden Andrae announced this morning that it will require fully two weeks to make the buildings habitable again and much longer to permanently repair them.

None of the convicts escaped during the excitement following the windstorm, although apprehension on this score was felt last night. Fortunately most of the inmates had been locked in their cells before the storm struck the city.

Loss by Storm Is Heavy.

The two convicts injured by flying debris from the roofs of the wrecked buildings are not seriously hurt, although both had a narrow escape. The damage to the State's property will be more than $35,000 while that to property belonging to the contractors and stored in the factory buildings, which were wrecked, will be even greater.

James Houchin of the Star Clothing Co., which employs more than 600 men, is the heaviest loser. A large stock of material was ruined by water.

The Sullivan Saddletree factory, another large concern which operates in the penitentiary, was set on fire, but this was discovered and extinguished before heavy damage resulted. A force of 25 convicts worked until early this morning in cleaning up wreckage.

Many of the cells were flooded with water, but Warden Andrae says the discomfort among the inmates was not as great as might be supposed. For a time the concrete over the roofs of the cells afforded protection from the rain, but after a time the water began to pour into the cells. About midnight there came a lull in the rain.

Trains All Are Delayed.

The Missouri Pacific and Missouri, Kansas & Texas trains are laid out and may be for a day or two by serious washouts along their lines.

No mail was received here and the fast Missouri Pacific train No. 7, which carries the St. Louis newspapers and early mail, was routed over the Wabash to Kansas City. No trains either from the East or West have reached here since 6 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Gov. Hadley, who was billed to speak at Columbia, was unable to get a train and started to drive the 40 miles intervening. It is thought here that the country roads are in such a bad condition on account of the rain that he cannot reach his destination. He left early this morning and nothing has been heard from him.

The Missouri River at this point is rising rapidly, while the Osage, Gasconade, Moreau and large tributaries are bank full and in some places are sweeping over the low bottoms.

An aged negro was reported drowned in a small creek in the low section of the city and a party searched the creek for him all night. This morning he was found in bed.

R. C. KERENS JR. RECOVERS FROM POISON DRAFT

Ambassador's Son Taken by Chief Smith From City Hospital in Auto.

Richard C. Kerens Jr., son of Richard C. Kerens, Ambassador to Austria-Hungary, is at the Alexian Brothers' Hospital, where he was taken from the City Hospital in an automobile by Chief of Detectives Smith, early Thursday morning, after he had practically recovered from an overdose of paraldehyde.

Smith took an interest in the young man because he was formerly in the employ of Col. Kerens. On the way to the Alexian Brothers' Hospital he picked up a special nurse, who will take care of Kerens while he remains in the hospital.

Kerens was taken to the same hospital in February and remained there 14 weeks. Before that he was in a sanitarium in Elkins, W. Va. He had been drinking heavily.

He was taken to the City Hospital about 11 o'clock Wednesday night, after he had been found unconscious on a table in the washroom of the Laclede Hotel. A half-emptied bottle was found in his pocket.

When he was received at the hospital his condition was considered serious, but he responded to treatment and was out of danger Thursday morning.

Kerens entered the hotel at 10:15. In the washroom he asked Raymond Warren, a check boy, for a spoon with which to take some medicine from a bottle he displayed. Without waiting for the spoon he poured some of the contents of the bottle into a tin cup. A bystander warned him to wait for a spoon to measure it.

"I May Wake Up in Heaven."

"I may wake up in heaven," laughed Kerens, as he swallowed the drug," "or somewhere else."

He told a boy to call a carriage for him. When the boy returned to the washroom Kerens was on the table unconscious. Five physicians, attending the meeting of the American Medical Association, gave him temporary attention. Patrolman O'Connor called an ambulance and he was sent to the hospital.

Kerens is the only member of the family now in St. Louis, the others being in Vienna.

Paraldehyde, properly administered, is a sedative. Improperly taken, it is an active poison, physicians say.

SUCTION OF TRAIN CAUSES AVIATOR TO FALL 50 FEET

Mars' Machine Overturned During Exhibition Flight at Topeka, Kan.

TOPEKA, Kan., June 9.—J. C. Mars, the aviator, had a fall from a height of 50 feet with his Curtiss biplane, while making an exhibition flight this forenoon. His machine was caught in a gust of wind while making a turn and capsized.

The aeroplane was broken, but Mars climbed out of the wreckage unhurt. Mars attributed his fall to an air current caused by a railroad train which passed near the path of his flight. Mars will continue his flights.

TWO MEN IN AEROPLANE MAKE 105 MILES IN 2 HOURS, 50 MIN.

PARIS, June 9.—Officers Marconnet and Feguant of the French army aviation corps flew today from Chalons-sur-Marne to the gates of Paris, a distance of 105.6 miles, in 2h. 50m. without a stop.

This constitutes a distance record for an aeroplane carrying two persons. M. Marconnet took observations and photographs while M. Feguant piloted the machine.

STORM KILLS 1000 VALUABLE PHEASANTS ON STATE FARM

Several Thousand Eggs Are Believed to Be Spoiled by Downpour.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., June 9.—Jesse A. Tolerton, State Game and Fish Commissioner, is mourning the loss of 1000 young pheasants, drowned in the heavy rain last night on the State game farm. His employes saved 1000 others.

The wind blew the coops about the field. Of 50 golden pheasants hatched only two are left. He paid $50 a pair for the birds.

Several thousand pheasant eggs ready to hatch are thought to be spoiled. Six men worked all night caring for the birds.

WEALTHY WIDOW MURDERED

LEAVENWORTH, Kan., June 9.—Elizabeth Schultz, a wealthy widow, 73 years old, was found murdered in her home within a block of the police station here early today.

It is believed that robbery was the motive. The murderer set fire to the house after killing the woman and ransacking the premises.

It is said Mrs. Schultz was worth $50,000 and that she kept a large sum in her house.

POPE'S EDICT IS ATTACKED IN THE PRUSSIAN DIET

Chancellor Declares Encyclical Menaces Germany's Religious Peace.

By Associated Press.

BERLIN, June 9.—Chancellor Von Bethmann-Hollweg, replying to an interpolation in the Prussian Diet today, spoke with decided emphasis regarding the recently issued papal encyclical, which he construed as condemnatory of religious reformers. The Chancellor said:

"The papal encyclical contains judgments about reformers and their reformation and about the princes and the people connected therewith, which must hurt the religious, national and moral feelings. This explains the profound emotion in wide circles, the effects of which must endanger religious peace.

"Immediately after the Latin text of the encyclical had been received, I caused representation to be made to the Vatican by the German envoy, who expressed the expectation of Germany that the curia would find a way to remedy the damage caused by the issuance of the encyclical.

Sets Forth Germany's Views.

"The Vatican has not as yet replied, and therefore I must refrain from further comment, except that I reply to the interpolation at this stage so as to let the German people know the position of the Government, which has taken up the matter; and also to assure the House that the Government is determined to do everything to insure religious peace in the land that can be done in the national interests."

The encyclical, issued on the occasion of the third centenary of the canonization of St. Charles Borromeo, extolled Borromeo as the champion of Catholicism against the Protestant Reformation and declared that he established at the time of the Council of Trent that the principles of Catholicism had been undermined by Martin Luther.

On Saturday, last interpolations were introduced in the Diet by the Conservatives and National-Liberals. The Conservative interpolation asked what the Government proposed to do to meet "such insults to the evangelical church." It also suggested that the Prussian Legation at the Vatican be withdrawn.

30-Story Chicago Hotel Planned.

CHICAGO, June 9.—Plans for the erection of a 30-story hotel at the southeast corner of Madison and Clark streets were announced yesterday. According to the plans the hotel will contain 1400 rooms and will cost $5,000,000.

The legitimate PAID circulation of the Post-Dispatch in St. Louis and its suburbs is greater than that of ALL other English Dailies COMBINED.

3 DEAD, MANY HURT IN THIRD WRECK AT DEAD MAN'S CURVE

Fast Mail on the Iron Mountain Jumps Track While Speeding 60 Miles an Hour.

ONE CAR GOES THROUGH BRICK WALL OF FACTORY

Engineer Was Making His First Run Out of St. Louis and It Is Thought He Did Not Know Location of Dangerous Curve.

Three men were killed and ten others were injured when Iron Mountain fast mail train No. 7, running probably 60 miles an hour, jumped the tracks at Dead Man's curve, Alabama avenue and Tesson street, in Carondelet, at 2:45 a. m. Thursday.

The failure of Engineer Walter Douglas to slow down to a speed of 25 miles an hour in rounding the sharp curve, where three wrecks have occurred during the past two years, is given by railroad officials as the cause of the wreck.

The locomotive left the track at a tangent and shot through the air a distance of 100 feet before it landed on its side and half buried itself in the soft earth. One of the mail cars, filled with mail clerks, was hurled through the brick wall of the Miller Manufacturing Co.'s plant and was reduced to splinters.

THE DEAD.

WALTER DOUGLAS, engineer, De Soto, Mo.
ROBERT P. SHEPPARD, fireman, 2645 Accomac street.
JASPER L. LASATER, mail clerk, 5838 Ridge avenue.

THE INJURED.

T. R. WILLIAMS, conductor, 5931 Page boulevard.
D. F. WIGGINS, mail clerk, 4120A Flad avenue.
O. P. MITCHELL, mail clerk, 3106 Lawton avenue.
ARTHUR LAUENSTEIN, mail clerk, 7028 Pernod avenue.
FREDERICK JUTZE, mail clerk, Kirkwood.
S. C. COOGAN, brakeman, 107 North Eighteenth street.
G. R. BELL, mail clerk, 2116 Olive street.
ROBERT F. FINNEY, negro, skull fractured, sent to hospital.
J. W. NEWCOMB, mail clerk, Vinita Park.

Engineer Douglas and Fireman Sheppard were pinioned under the engine and were scalded to death by escaping steam. Mail Clerk Lasater was at work in the front end of the mail car when it was hurled through the wall of the brick building, and he was crushed to death.

The fast mail train left the Union Station at 2:21 a. m., three minutes late. Engineer Douglas was a new man, having been recently promoted to engineer from a fireman. He was making his first run out of St. Louis.

Among the first to reach the scene of the wreck was Dr. Max Starkloff, whose office is not far away. He gave first aid to the injured and then the victims were taken in ambulances to the Missouri Pacific Hospital.

Fireman from Engine Company No. 34, under the direction of Assistant Chief Alonzo Salmon, also reached the scene in short time and aided in taking victims from under the debris.

Miss Mary Foerstel of 7918 Ivory avenue was one of the early arrivals and helped to relieve the sufferings of the injured. She then hurried home to prepare lunch, which was carrid out to those who were working at the wreck.

DYING ENGINEER RAVES OF SPEED WITH LAST BREATH

POLICEMAN PETER M. SENN told a Post-Dispatch reporter that Engineer Douglas, after being dragged from the wreckage by a "human chain" of men clasping each other about the waists, raved:

"We were going 60 miles an hour."

Senn says that while Douglas was being taken in an ambulance to the Missouri Pacific Hospital, he continued to scream, until a few minutes before his death:

"We were going 60 miles an hour."

He died on the way to the hospital.

Engineer Knew That He Was Expected to Go Slow on the Dangerous Curve

Thomas R. Williams, conductor of the train, declared that the fatal trip was the first run made over the route by both Douglas and Fletcher, the engineer and fireman.

"We left the Union Station a minute or so late," said Williams. "I had instructed Douglas where the curves were and told him to run slowly over them.

"As we approached the Tesson street curve, I knew the engineer was running too fast and ran to the air brake on the rear car. I was just applying it when there was a terrific grinding noise. I remember that a nail went through the palm of my left hand like a bullet, and that I was hurled off the car platform upon the track. I was not hurt, however, and ran forward to the overturned engine. I could hear Douglas and Sheppard screaming under the wreckage."

Mrs. Harry F. Hart of 2645 Acommac street, with whom Fireman Sheppard boarded, says that, before leaving home at midnight for the run, he told her:

"I'm afraid of that new engineer. If he goes too fast, I won't give him any steam."

L. L. Kensinger, superintendent of terminals of the Missouri Pacific and Iron Mountain systems, told a Post-Dispatch reporter at the scene of the wreck that all engineers are under specific orders not to round Dead Man's Curve at a higher speed than 25 miles an hour. He said the curve can be made safely at a speed of 45 miles an hour, owing to the excellent condition of the tracks.

"The train must have been running at a speed of 60 miles an hour or it would not have left the tracks at a tangent," said Supt. Kensinger. "The engineer must have been trying to make up the lost time. Engineers are under instructions not to attempt to make up time in the terminals of St. Louis."

Soon after the train pulled out of the station Conductor Williams says he went to the cab of the engine to deliver orders to Engineer Douglas. He said Douglas asked him if the train was to be slowed down at the Carondelet bridge. On being told that it was not, Williams said Douglas asked:

"Then the only place to slow her down is at Dead Man's curve?"

Williams said that Douglas fully understood that the speed of the train was to be reduced to 25 miles an hour at the curve. Being a new man on the run, Williams thinks Douglas did not realize that he was approaching the curve in time to slow down.

Dead Man's Curve is at the intersection of the Iron Mountain and Missouri Pacific terminal systems in Carondelet.

MISS MAFFITT'S AUTO KILLS BOY; TAKES HIM HOME

Lad Was Run Over at Channing Avenue and Olive Street Wednesday Night.

FATHER FOUND HIM

Was About to Carry Injured Lad Away When Use of Machine Was Offered.

After her automobile had crushed the life out of 12-year-old Alfred Bruley of 3516 Olive street, Wednesday night, Miss Julia Chouteau Maffitt of 4315 Westminster place placed the machine at the disposal of the boy's father to carry him home.

Young Bruley, who had been attending a picture show, was returning home when he was struck and knocked down at the corner of Channing avenue and Olive street. The machine passed over the body in the region of the heart, bursting a blood vessel.

Chauffeur William McGoughey and Miss Maffitt, assisted by William Brown of Webster Groves, who accompanied her, rendered every assistance. McGoughey carried the limp body of the lad to a nearby drug store, where Dr. A. Wilbur Banks was summoned. Dr. Banks pronounced the boy seriously injured. Philip Bruley, father of the boy, was attracted to the drug store by the crowd. He chanced to pass by, and upon beholding the form of his son picked up the lad and started to run for further medical assistance.

Miss Maffitt then tendered her car, and father, son and Dr. Banks went to the Bruley home. The boy died shortly after arriving there. At the Maffitt home it was said the car was going slow on account of the inclement weather, and the boy ran in front of the machine, leaving no time to stop it.

WOMAN'S LEAGUE CONVENTION AT UNIVERSITY CITY

Delegates Spend Morning Inspecting Plant of Publishing Concern.

The convention of the American Woman's League at University City opened at 2:30 p. m. Between 2000 and 3000 delegates registered at the league headquarters before the convention opened.

The delegates came from all parts of the United States. E. G. Lewis, Mayor of University City, and president of the Lewis Publishing Co., is founder of the league.

Large tents were erected on the grounds of University City to meet the requirements of the delegates. There was a rest tent, a hospital tent, a business tent and a railroad validating tent. The delegates spent the morning inspecting the plant of the Lewis Publishing Co.

The meeting was called to order by Mrs. Agnes K. McKee, president of the Terry Chapter of Edwardsville, Ill. The Rev. John Long of University City delivered the invocation. Herbert Lane, chairman of the Entertainment Committee, was temporary chairman of the convention.

After the delegates sang "My Country, 'Tis of Thee," Mayor Kreismann delivered an address of welcome. Former Gov. Lon V. Stephens delivered the address for the board of trustees of the league.

An address in behalf of the Publishers' Committee was delivered by J. Berg Esenwein of Lippincott's Magazine. E. G. Lewis was the last speaker of the day.

Committees were appointed before the afternoon session adjourned. They will hold their meetings in the Woman's Magazine Building and be ready to make their report at Saturday's meeting.

A phonograph was used to record all speeches. A record will be sent to each chapter house.

GERMAN EMPEROR SAYS HE IS CONSTANT READER OF BIBLE

Ruler Who Finds It Hard to Be Meek Could Not Live Without Scriptures.

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch and New York World.

Copyright, 1910, by Press Pub. Co. (New York World.)

BERLIN, June 9.—Herr Stolte, pastor of Schirmenitz, has published an account of a recent conversation he had with Emperor William, in which His Majesty is quoted as saying:

"I often read the Bible. I like to read it. Every night the Bible lies on a table at my bedside. I find the most beautiful thoughts expressed in it. I cannot understand how it is that so many persons pay so little attention to the Holy Scriptures.

"Whenever I make any decision I ask myself what the Bible would teach me to do in that particular case. It is to me a fountain from which I draw light and strength, and in hours of sorrow and depression I seek consolation therein. I cannot understand how life can be lived without real communion with the Almighty. All must go through Gethsemane for hours and hours in which our pride is humiliated. It is difficult to be meek, for each one of us desires to be his own master."

WOMAN WHOSE AUTO KILLED BOY AND CARRIED HIM TO HIS HOME

ondelet. The curve is very sharp, being described by the engineers as a 12-degree curve. Superintendent Kensinger said that he had examined the ties and rails where the wreck occurrred and found them to be in first-class condition. He said the rails were fastened to the ties with square steel plates to make them doubly secure.

Fast mail train No. 7 has been wrecked three times at Dead Man's Curve. Two engineers and two firemen have been killed in the wrecks, and many other persons have been injured.

The curve is regarded by veteran railroad men as one of the danger points on the Iron Mountain line. The engineers of experience always approach it cautiously.

Conductor Williams, who was not seriously hurt, sent out calls for help. Four fire engine companies of South St. Louis responded. A wrecking crew arrived in half an hour.

The wrecking crew jacked up the engine and removed the bodies of Engineer Douglas and Fireman Sheppard. They were sent to an undertaking establishment at 7915 South Broadway.

T. M. Ingram, mail clerk, who was reported killed, turned up later at the scene of the wreck, uninjured. R. G. Adams, another mail clerk, of 5965 Highland avenue, was unhurt. Adams and Ingram wer practically the only men on the train to escape injury.

"It all happened in a second," said Adams to a Post-Dispatch reporter. "We were busy in the mail car sorting out the mail. Suddenly the mail car left the track and seemed to be shooting through space.

"Before we realized what was happening the car crashed into the brick building. All the clerks except Adams and myself were thrown in a heap in the front end of the car, among the debris. We broke the windows and crawled out. We went to the nearest telephones and sent out calls for help."

When the engine leaped from the track, it buried its nose in the earth. The tender, wrenched from its trucks, bumped into the engine and added its weight to the debris lying upon the engineer and firemen.

The first mail car, in which Lasater was killed, shot against a brick building belonging to the Miller Manufacturing Co., and tore away a section 20 feet square. Bricks four feet deep covered the wreckage. The car then plunged into a stable ripping away one wall, killing a horse and smashing a wagon. Oats and corn poured from their bins upon the track.

Mail Clerk Expected Accident.

The mail clerks in the car directly behind the engine anticipated the wreck, says Oliver T. Mitchell, 3106 Lawton avenue. Mitchell was at work in the end of the car farthest from the engine.

"Before the car left the track," he told a Post-Dispatch reporter, "I made a jump for the safety rod and caught it. But no sooner had I seized hold of the rod than one of the mail boxes flying through the car struck me on the legs at the same time that some object hit me on the head.

"I lost my hold on the rod and half dazed fell to the floor. As soon as I realized anything again I found that I was lying under a heap of mail boxes. Somebody removed the boxes from me and I got up. But I was still only half conscious and could scarcely grasp what was going on around me.

Went Fast Around Curves.

"I knew there was a wreck coming from the time we entered Carondelet Park. That train was swinging around curves at a rate which made it a certainty. And I didn't have any confidence in the engineer. I judged he was a new one, for when we were about to pull out he had come back to the car and asked, 'What are the supplies?'"

"He asked the question so that he would know where to whistle. If he had not been a stranger to the route, he would not have had to ask it.

"The way we left the lights behind at the curves worried me. Just before the train left the tracks I looked down the car to see if the other clerks had noticed anything. I saw Samuel Porter already hanging from a safety rod. That decided it for me, and I jumped for a rod, too, but it was too late to save me altogether from injury. If I had jumped a few seconds sooner, I could have raised my body out of the path of the flying objects beneath.

"The Ivory avenue curve is one of the worst that we have to make. I guess when we left the tracks there the gas tank must have been torn loose from under the car. Anyhow, the connections were destroyed and we were in absolute darkness. It seemed to me that we ran into a wall. The car was torn open and I could hear heavy objects flying all about me."

The wrecked train consisted of two mail cars and two baggage cars. Only the first mail car left the tracks while the others remained on the rails.

Ambulances from the Missouri Pacific and city hospitals were sent to the scene and conveyed the injured to the hospitals. Some were sent to the Missouri Pacific Hospital and others to the city hospital.

A special mail train was made up in St. Louis and dispatched to the scene of the wreck. About 100 sacks of mail were recovered and brought back to the Union Station to catch the first train out.

Fireman Predicted He Would Come to Some Violent End

ROBERT PAUL SHEPPARD, the fireman killed in the Carondelet wreck, was 37 years old and for two years boarded at the home of Mrs. Harry R. Hart at 2845 Accomac street. But once did he speak of his family, and that was last October.

Sheppard told Mrs. Hart that he was one of an ill-fated family. He said his father was killed by an automobile, his mother was drowned, his brother was killed by a train and his sister was so badly injured in a runaway accident that she died. He was a survivor of the battleship Maine and predicted that he would meet a violent death.

COULD NOT SLEEP AT NIGHT

Mrs. Gertrude Sumner, of Carey, Idaho, Describes Her Painful Experience and Final Recovery.

"I began by being troubled with internal pains," writes Mrs. Sumner, of this city, "and got so I could hardly sit up or walk. I grew worse and could not sleep at night, so I told my husand I would die, if there wasn't something done for me. He sent for some Cardui, and I began to take it. I seemed better right away, and now I am so much better than I have been for some time. I believe if it had not been for Cardui, I would now be dead."—Carey, Ida.

No sick or ailing woman can fail to be interested in the experience of others, particularly when their stories give her hope, as the above should give you.

Cardui is a purely vegetable, medicinal, harmless, non-intoxicating and perfectly reliable, tonic remedy. Over a million women have been benefited by its use.

Cardui will carry you over the rough places, ease your hard days, and increase the comfort and pleasure of living.

MERCHANTS' EXCHANGE ALLOWS MINER TO RESIGN

Head of Stock and Grain Company Was Convicted of Bucketing.

The board of directors of the Merchants' Exchange has accepted the resignation of Francis J. Miner, head of the Merchants' Stock and Grain Co., charged in several suits with conducting a bucketshop. Miner recently was convicted of operating a bucketshop and sentenced to serve a five years' term in the penitentiary.

The directors of the exchange considered the advisability of filing charges against Miner. They decided later to let him resign.

Widow of French Explorer Dies.

TROY EXPLAINS WATER RATES AND CITIES' GROWTH

He Says Figures He Gave Practically Agree With Those Saunders Quotes.

E. J. Troy, secretary of the Manufacturers' Association, which is making a fight for cheaper water rates to encourage manufacturers to establish plants in St. Louis, said Thursday that he did not wish to get into a controversy with Secretary Saunders of the Business Men's League over statistics showing that Detroit has had a greater industrial growth than St. Louis.

Secretary Troy, in a communication to Water Commissioner Adkins, referred to the statistics of industrial growth of Detroit and other cities. It was pointed out that Detroit's cheap water rate might be responsible for its growth.

Question of Figures.

Secretary Saunders challenged the accuracy of the figures. He said the census bureau for the period between 1900 and 1905 showed that capital invested in manufacturing enterprises in St. Louis had increased $115,410,671 in that time, while the increase in Detroit was but $24,004,532. The increase in wage earners in St. Louis for the same period, Saunders said, was 17,866, and compared with 10,506 in Detroit.

"Secretary Saunders quotes figures, while I quoted percentages," said Troy. "I was not vouching for the accuracy of the figures, and mentioned them incidentally as one reason why we should have cheaper water rates in St. Louis. If Mr. Saunders' figures were reduced to percentages, it probably would be found that they tallied closely with the statistics as I quoted to Commissioner Adkins.

"The figures were printed in St. Louis several months ago, and Secretary Saunders did not challenge their accuracy then."

Secretary Saunders said it was not fair to compare the growth of cities by percentages.

Calls Percentages Unfair.

"It can be shown by percentages that Oklahoma City is growing faster than St. Louis, and East St. Louis faster than New York," said Saunders. "The smaller the city the better showing it makes by the percentage system of statistics.

"Any little new town that has $1000 to pay a secretary to get out a folder can prove by percentages that it is growing faster than St. Louis, Chicago and New York. It is not doing St. Louis justice to compare it with Detroit on a percentage basis. Detroit is not in a class with St. Louis. Being much smaller it might make a better showing in a percentage table, but when the actual figures are given it will be seen that Detroit is very far behind St. Louis."

FIREMAN WHO RISKED LIFE AT FIRE WON GIRL'S HEART

Miss Leonora Stevenson Fell in Love With Man She Knew Was Brave.

When Miss Leonora Stevenson of 3818 Utah place saw Steve Hartwig, a fireman of Hook and Ladder Company No. 8 risk his life in extinguishing a fire on Olive street recently she admired him for his bravery. When she was introduced to Hartwig by her brother James, who is also a fireman in the same company, she admitted to herself that she loved him.

The climax of the affair will be a wedding in St. Paul's Church June 29, after which the couple will go on an extended honeymoon trip through the Eastern States and the Great Lakes. Miss Stevenson is well known socially and will be attended by her sister, Octavia. Hartwig, who made the around-the-world tour with the fleet several years ago, lives at 1238 Cass avenue and is a favorite in the engine house. John Durkin, a fellow fireman, will be the best man.

BATH TUB TRUST HAS $100,000,000 CAPITAL STOCK

Sixteen Corporations in New Combine Control 95 Per Cent of Output.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, June 9.—A $100,000,000 combination is being formed which, if perfected, will doubtless be called the "Bathtub Trust." Already it has ordered a rise in the price of its products from 20 to 30 per cent, which will mean something like a $25,000,000 annual tax upon the people of the United States. It also purposes to put practically all the small jobbers out of business.

Sixteen companies are involved in the deal. They manufacture not only tubs, but almost every other kind of sanitary enameled device.

The corporations in the combination control 95 per cent of the total output, and accordingly jobbers say that if the trust is consummated there will be no escape.

Already 110 of the 377 jobbers in the United States who were given a chance to buy goods from the 16 allied concerns, have signed contracts. The others were told that unless they wrote their signatures by the end of the week they might not have a further opportunity of "getting in."

Of the 84 dealers in sanitary enameled ware in New York City, 32 have been invited to buy from the trust. The other 52, as one of them put it, are to be frozen out. But, although the favored jobbers are somewhat in the minority, many of them handle such a great amount of business that they control 85 per cent of the sanitary enameled ware sales here.

Inquiry among dealers disclosed the fact that nearly all of them who recently gave information to agents of Attorney-General Wickersham, in a secret investigation which the Government is making of a former alleged attempt to boycott these dealers, failed to be invited to buy from the Bathtub Trust.

The 16 companies named in the trust contract are as follows:

The Barnes Manufacturing Co., Mansfield, O.; the Cahill Iron Works, Chattanooga, Tenn.; Colwell Lead Co., New York; the Day-Ward Co., Warren, O.; the Humphreys Manufacturing Co., Pittsburg; the J. L. Mott Iron Works, New York; McVey & Walker, Braddock, Pa.; the McCrum-Howell Co., New York; the National Sanitary Manufacturing Co., Salem, O.; Standard Sanitary Manufacturing Co., Pittsburg; Union Sanitary Manufacturing Co., Noblesville, Ind.; United States Sanitary Manufacturing Co., Pittsburg, Pa.; L. Wolff Manufacturing Co., Chicago; A. Weiskitel & Son Co., Baltimore; Wheeling Enameled Iron Co., Wheeling, W. Va.

BOTH REPUBLICAN FACTIONS IN IOWA CLAIM A VICTORY

Insurgents and Regulars Each Expect to Control State Convention.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

DES MOINES, Io., June 9.—With the control of the coming Republican convention claimed by both regulars and insurgents, the profits of Tuesday's primaries seem divided. The success of the progressive in the congressional delegation is offset by the renomination of Carroll for Governor by a scanty majority.

The surprise of the election is the majority rolled up by Judge Prouty, "progressive," over Congressman Hull. Prouty carried every county in the district, his unofficial majority being 2106.

Even the most sanguine progressive had hoped for little better than a small margin. Two years ago Hull was nominated by 40 votes over Prouty.

The remarkable shift is attributed solely to antagonism to the course of the "stand-pat" congressmen, of whom Hull was one on the tariff and railroad legislation.

President Taft early in the campaign spoke in this city in support of the administration policies.

The defeat of Garst for Governor, which is admitted tonight by the Register and Leader, progressive, by so small a margin is held to indicate to some degree the general sentiment of the State on national affairs, despite the fact that Gov. Carroll insisted that he was running on his State record only.

Two years ago Carroll was nominated over Garst by 23,000 votes.

Practically complete returns tonight show the following congressional nominations: The Second District Democrats, at first believed to have chosen De Armand, elected I. S. Pepper.

Republican—First, C. A. Kennedy, stand-pat; Second, Charles A. Grilk, progressive; Third, C. E. Pickett, progressive; Fourth, Gilbert N. Haugen, progressive; Fifth, James W. Good, progressive; Sixth, N. E. Kendall, progressive; Seventh, S. F. Prouty, progressive; Eighth, H. M. Towner, stand-pat; Ninth, Walter I. Smith, stand-pat; Tenth, Frank P. Woods, progressive; Eleventh, E. H. Hubbard, progressive.

Democratic—First District, J. A. S. Pollard; Second, I. S. Pepper; Third, John Dennison; Fourth, D. D. Murphy; Fifth, S. C. Huber; Sixth, Daniel Hamilton; Seventh, Clint L. Price; Eighth, F. Q. Stuart; Ninth, W. I. Cleveland; Tenth, no candidate; Eleventh, W. I. Whiting.

In the Eleventh the Democrats made no formal nomination, but the name of William I. Whiting was written to the ballot, as is allowed in this State, and he was chosen.

Wisconsin O K's Taft and Tarriff.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., June 9.—The administration of President William H. Taft is strongly indorsed in the platform unanimously adopted at the closing session of the Republican State Convention in Milwaukee today. The present tariff law is approved and the provisions for maximum and minimum schedules and future scientific revisions are commended. Gov. Davidson's administration is also indorsed.

RESULT OF SIOUX FALLS ELECTION STILL IN DOUBT

SIOUX FALLS, S. D., June 9.—The result of Tuesday's primary still is in doubt, the returns now in not changing materially the situation as seen last night. George W. Egan, Independent Republican, still claims he has won by not less than 3000.

R. O. Richards, manager of the progressive campaign, in a statement issued today claims the renomination of Gov. Vessey. He declares his returns show Vessey carried the State by about 1600 votes. The official count may be necessary to settle the dispute. It is generally believed that the stalwarts have renominated Congressman Burke and Martin.

SCHOOL TEACHERS TO HAVE ANNUAL OUTING SATURDAY

SEVERAL hundred public school teachers and their friends will attend the second annual river excursion of the Teachers' Fellowship Society of St. Louis, Saturday afternoon and evening. Day and night trips will be made, and the teachers will have the choice of attending either or both trips, as they desire.

The excursion boat Grey Eagle will leave the foot of Olive street both Saturday afternoon and night, landing at that place between trips to unload and take on passengers.

Officers of the society are: President, Miss Amelia C. Fruchte; secretary, Miss Rose Hesse; treasurer, Miss Anna M. Merriman; first vice-president, Miss Eugenia Dussuchal; second vice-president, S. A. Maguire; third vice-president, C. L. Hackstaff; fourth vice-president, Miss Nellie L. Patterson.

One of the objects of the society is to cultivate a better acquaintance among the teachers of St. Louis and vicinity, and the exchanging of methods and ideas used by each in and out of the schoolroom. An effort is being made to establish the organization in its own quarters. It is planned to furnish the society home gradually, and allow it to expand as the needs of the association require.

Any teacher recommended by a majority of the board of managers is eligible to membership. The dues are $1 a year. The fund for the annual excursion and social entertainments is raised by popular subscription among the members.

Missourian Kills Himself.

POCATELLO, Idaho, June 9.—Harry B. Kay, 34 years old, who until recently was cashier of a bank in Pasadena, Cal., ended his life by shooting here yesterday. He was en route to his home in St. Joseph, Mo., having finished a hunting trip in Idaho. He was well supplied with money and the cause of his action is unknown.

Broward Defeats Taliaferro.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., June 9.—Friends of United States Senator James P. Taliaferro now concede that former Gov. N. P. Broward won in the Senatorial primary. He began life as a deck hand on a St. Johns River steamboat.

JACK POT HELD $900,000; PAPER GIVES FIGURES

Senatorial Contest Said to Have Furnished $225,000 to Corruption Fund.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

CHICAGO, June 9.—The Chicago Democratic Bulletin, organ of the Chicago Democratic Club, John P. Tansey publisher, charges that there was more than $900,000 in the Springfield "jack pot" that was divided among members of the Legislature after the adjournment. The Bulletin gives what purports to be the sources of the corruption fund. The important sums are:

Senatorial contest, $225,000; manufacturers' bills, $50,000; antitrust bills, $50,000; capital stock legislation, $50,000; anti-local option legislation, $75,000; railroad regulations, $50,000; telephone and telegraph bills, $50,000; gas, electric and power bills, $40,000; insurance and banking bills, $50,000; sleeping car bills, $25,000; stock yards bills, $25,000; cold storage bills, $25,000; school book legislation, $20,000.

Commenting on the alleged corruption fund, the publication says: "Everyone who was in Springfield at the time and who was at all on the inside of what was going on has a pretty clear idea as to whence came the money that went into the 'jack pot' and whither it went at the close of the session."

MARSHAL OF KIRKWOOD MARRIED

Ceremony Performed in Clayton by Judge Campbell.

Louis Armentrout, Marshal of Kirkwood, made the catch of his life Wednesday when he captured Miss Louise Ousley of 4247 Ashland avenue on the charge of stealing his heart. He took her to the office of the County Clerk at Clayton and obtained a warrant to marry her and Judge Campbell sentenced her to be Mrs. Armentrout for life.

She was remanded to the custody of the Marshal, who was given instructions to see that the mandate of the Court was carried out. He took her back to Kirkwood with him.

$10,000,000 IN DIAMONDS ARE SMUGGLED ANNUALLY

Importers' Protective Union Offers Rewards to Stop Evasion of Duties.

NEW YORK, June 9.—About $10,000,000 worth of diamonds are smuggled into the United States annually, according to a statement issued by the Importers' Protective Union, which has just offered to pay rewards of $2500 and up for information leading to the arrest of offenders.

"The amount of smuggling by tourists is hard to estimate, but it has been said that more has got through in the past without paying duty than was ever declared.

KNOWLEDGE OF FOOD

Proper Selection of Great Importance in Summer.

The feeding of infants is a very serious proposition, as all mothers know. Food must be used that will easily digest, or the undigested parts will be thrown into the intestines and cause sickness.

It is important to know that a food can be obtained that is always safe; that is Grape-Nuts.

A Texas mother writes: "My baby took the first premium at a baby show and is in every way a prize baby. I have fed him on Grape-Nuts since he was five months old. I also use your Postum for myself."

Grape Nuts food is not made solely for a baby food by any means, but is manufactured for all human beings.

One special point of value is that the food is partially predigested in the process of manufacture, not by any drugs or chemicals whatsoever, but simply by the action of heat, moisture and time, which permits the diastase to grow, and change the starch into dextrin, a portion of which is further changed to dextrose or grape-sugar. This presents food to the system ready for immediate assimilation.

Its especial value as a food, beyond the fact that it is easily digested, is that it supplies the needed elements to quickly rebuild the cells in the brain and nerve centers throughout the body.

and gently reared, women will find in all the seasons of their lives, as maidens, wives and mothers, that the one simple, wholesome laxative remedy, which acts gently and pleasantly and naturally and which may be taken at any time, when the system needs a laxative, with perfect safety and really beneficial effects, is Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna.

It has that true delicacy of flavor which is so refreshing to the taste, that warming and grateful toning to the stomach which responds so favorably to its action and the laxative effect which is so beneficial to the system when, occasionally, its gentle cleansing is required.

The genuine, always bearing the name of the California Fig Syrup Co., may be purchased from all leading druggists in original packages of one size only, price fifty cents per bottle.

NEW STREET IN WEBSTER IS ONE TO BE STUCK ON; HAS A MOLASSES FINISH

Oil Applied Over Gravel Fails to Soak in; Road Like Fly Paper.

If there are no flies on your street it is because they are all stuck on Lockwood avenue at Webster. Lockwood avenue may not be prettier than your street, but it is stickier.

Lockwood avenue was paved in a new way not long ago. Over layers of gravel and crushed rock was poured a layer of crude oil. It was expected the mixture would harden into a hard roadbed. But it did not harden. The oil did not soak in. The street seemed to have been surfaced with good, old-fashioned sorghum.

The natives shunned it, but the flies went to it. It was manna, milk and honey to them. They feasted and perished. That was good as far as it went, but the people wanted paving, not fly paper. Besides, it was a menace to the populace. There was danger that someone would step on it and stick fast and have to be pried off or share the fate of the flies.

A hurry call has been sent in for enough crushed rock to cover the street. While they are waiting for it the residents are "going around the other way."

TAFT WILL SEND LETTER OF WELCOME BY CAPT. BUTT TO ROOSEVELT ON HIS ARRIVAL

President Will Not Be in New York, but Will Send Three Cabinet Officers.

By Wire From the Washington Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, June 9.—President Taft will send a letter of welcome to former President Roosevelt. Capt. Archibald W. Butt, the President's aid, will deliver the message to the returning hunter from a Government revenue cutter. At that time the President will be rolling westward on a Pullman car to Villanova, Pa., where St. Thomas College will give him a degree.

In addition to Capt. Butt, two other members of the President's official family, Secretary of the Navy Meyer and Secretary of Agriculture Wilson, will go to New York to greet Mr. Roosevelt. The three officials are relics of the last administration. Mr. Meyer was Roosevelt's Postmaster-General and Secretary Wilson was at the head of the Agricultural Depatment. Capt. Butt was Mr. Roosevelt's military aid.

The letter to the former President will be a formal message of welcome. It will have no political significance. This assurance has been made, and if there is any friction between the President and his predecessor it has never been evinced by a spoken word from either. The surprise that Mr. Taft would not go to New York was not genuine because no one expected him to do so.

Capt. Butt and the Taft letter will go down the bay to meet Mr. Roosevelt on the same cutter which will convey Collector Loeb and the Reception Committee.

25 CENTS A CORD DUTY ON PAPER WOOD IS SUSTAINED

Treasury Department Holds Tariff on Canada Product Will Prevail.

WASHINGTON, June 9.—Pulp and printing paper manufactured from wood cut on Crown Lands in the Province of Quebec, prior to May 1 last, is subject to the countervailing duty of 25 cents per cord, or its equivalent of 35 cents a ton in the manufactured state as print paper, as provided by the new tariff law, according to a decision of the Treasury Department today.

Negroes to Be Hanged Friday.

JEFFERSON CITY, June 9.—Gov. Hadley declined to interfere, and Robert Davis of Kansas City and George Albert Jackson of Charleston, negroes, will be executed Friday. Davis hangs for murder and Jackson for assault.

MAYOR COOK OPENS HUSTLERS' MEETING IN EAST ST. LOUIS

Several Thousand Members of Travelers' Organization in the City.

WHITE SUIT PARADE

"Egyptians" and Local Merchants March—Fireworks Display Planned.

The Egyptian Hustlers, several thousand strong, are in East St. Louis Thursday for their annual convention together with over 20,000 visitors. The convention will continue through Friday and Saturday.

Mayor Silas Cook, after the address of welcome delivered from the band stand in front of the City Hall Thursday afternoon, presented F. B. Bulger, president of the organization with a bronze key, two feet long, with which he might open the city to his association for their three days' celebration.

The St. Louis delegation, 1200 strong, attired in white suits, marched from the Marquette Hotel in St. Louis, headed by Poepping's band, to the bridge Thursday morning. There they took cars for East St. Louis. They left the cars at the viaduct, where they were met by the Equestrian Club of the National Stockyards, in command of Capt. James H. Campbell, and conducted to the Hustler headquarters at Lehman's Music Hall, Collinsville and St. Louis avenues.

Mayor Opens Convention.

At 1:30 p. m. the convention was formally opened by Mayor Cook in front of the City Hall. President Bulger of the Hustlers responded to the address.

At 2 p. m., the White Suit parade formed at the City Hall. Several thousand Hustlers, members of the Retail Merchants' Association and 300 members of the East St. Louis Commercial Club, were in line headed by the Stockyards Equestrian Club.

Thursday morning was taken up with the registration of members at headquarters at Lehman's Music Hall. Thursday afternoon, from 3 to 5 o'clock, a general reception was held at the Elks' clubrooms and Thursday night there will be a fireworks display.

Mayor Cook has declared a half holiday for Friday, which will be the big day of the celebration. Friday morning the Hustlers will play baseball with the East St. Louis Fat Men, at Lansdowne Park, in the afternoon field and aquatic sports will be held there and Friday night will be the King Pompey parade.

Twenty Floats in Line.

Twenty floats will be in line, headed by King Pompey, impersonated by President Bulger of the Hustlers and Cleopatra, his Queen, whom Mrs. Bulger will impersonate.

The East St. Louis Commercial Club, the Retail Merchants' Association and the Real Estate Exchange will have floats and the remainder will comprise the ancient and modern Hustler—the former the pyramid builder, the latter the modern business man—Old King Cole, Toyland, Chanticleer and a series of comic subjects.

There will be six bands in the parade. The floats will be lighted with red fire. The Equestrian Club will head the procession as an escort to King Pompey.

PEARY SUED FOR $10,000 BY RUDOLPH FRANKE WHO WAS WITH COOK IN NORTH

Latter Declares Commander Forced Him to Give Valuable Furs for Passage Home.

By Associated Press.

BERLIN, June 9.—Rudolph Francke, who was associated with Dr. Frederick A. Cook in Arctic exploration has brought suit against Commander Robert E. Peary for $10,000. The suit is based on half the value of furs, whale and narwhal teeth which Francke bought from natives in the Arctic upon arrangement with Dr. Cook that they should share them half and half.

According to Francke's statement, Commander Peary found him seriously ill at Etah, owing to a fall on a glacier, and took advantage of this circumstance to demand the entire collection as the price for transporting him to America. Francke declares he did not act of his own will, but by compulsion, and says that Peary set aside a part of the collection to present to former President Roosevelt.

The papers in the suit were served on Commander Peary at a hotel. He refused to take them when they were handed to him by a deputy, and the officer then laid them on a table in the presence of a witness, calling the commander's attention to the fact that this was a legal service.

Commander Peary declined to make any statement with reference to the suit. Commander Peary gave a lecture last night to a crowded house, through an interpreter. He will leave for London today.

NEW CONFERENCE ON BRIDGE ARBITRARY SET FOR JUNE 20

Shippers Will Attempt to Keep the Meeting Open to the Public.

Negotiations for the abolition of the bridge arbitrary will be resumed June 20. Chairman Isaac H. Sawyer of the Shippers' Municipal Committee and Thomas C. Powell, chairman of the General Railroad Committee, arranged the conference by long-distance telephone and telegraph. Powell was in Washington.

Chairman Sawyer found that he could not get all of the members of the St. Louis committee together by next Monday, the date originally fixed for the conference.

All of the railroads in the Terminal Association will be represented at the conference. A sub-committee of railroad men may be appointed to continue the negotiations with the shippers for the abolition of the arbitrary.

The meetings may be open to newspaper representatives. At the former conference the shippers desired to have reporters present, but the railroad officials objected. The railroad men are now in favor of an open meeting, it is said.

Garland's

A Whirlwind Start for the Lingerie Dress Sale.

It began with phone messages Wednesday, when the Post-Dispatch Home Edition flashed the announcement to its readers, with—

"Hello, Garland's.—"Can't I come down today and pick out some Dresses, and then you can just send them home Thursday—P-L-E-A-S-E?"

Or, "Say, Miss So-and-So, in the Dress Department, I'm Mrs. Blank, 5147 ——; you know about what will suit me; won't you just put aside 2 or 3 Dresses for me today? I'm so afraid I won't get down Friday before the best styles are gone. PLEASE do—that's a good Dear."

Of course, we could do neither—but it kept up till the closing hour Wednesday.

Today when the doors opened there was a whirlwind rush. At 9:30—9:30 this morning, mind you—an hour when stores are usually just getting awake—and despite the threatening weather, the writer made a tour of the Dress floors and counted 119 customers. After 9:30 it was practically impossible to make a count—too many people buying.

And What Is the Magnet? 4000 New, Lingerie Dresses Selling at Unprecedented Prices.

And now a word to those who were afraid they'd miss out on some of the best selections if they were not here at 8:00 o'clock today.

We Don't Buy Just for One Day's Business

We provide for the customers who are sure to come for several days, in the wake of such a first-day rush as this one. This buying in such enormous quantities is how we secure such great price concessions.

4000 Dresses at One Purchase

Please get the facts firmly fixed in your mind. $70,000.00 at retail is the amount of the purchase. 50,000 yards of material went in to the making. 112 distinct styles from which to select.

Not One-Half of This Vast Purchase

Could be brought forward and shown at one time, even if we should give over our entire floor space for the purpose. So all you who were afraid it would be useless to come unless you could come early today—and the hundreds who we were unable to serve so far, we say come tomorrow or the next day—even as late as Monday—you'll find plenty of every style—every price—and every size. We'll work tonight rearranging the lots—bringing forward from reserve all missing sizes, styles, etc.

To any of you who may not have read our announcement; descriptions and prices, we will tell you here collectively what they are. As stated above, there are 112 distinct styles. The trimmings are of French laces, insertings, hand embroidery, English eyelet embroidery, motifs, medallions, tucks, pleats, shirring, etc., etc. Materials are finest sheer Lingerie fabrics, mulls, batiste and handkerchief Linen.

White—Only White

And the price range runs as low as $6.90, and as high as $39.50, with a dozen intermediate prices, and on any one you select you save one-half, on many more than half real value.

MEDICAL BOARDS CONFER, BUT FAIL TO CONSOLIDATE

Rival Organizations Differ on Reciprocal Issuance of State Permits.

URGE A FEDERAL LAW

Uniform Qualifications for the Practice of Medicine Advocated.

After seven years of unsuccessful effort on the part of the National Confederation of State Medical Examining and Licensing Boards and the American Confederation of Reciprocating Medical Examining and Licensing Boards to patch up differences and get together into one organization, another attempt of the two societies to come to terms fell short.

Dr. A. Ravogli, a Cincinnati dermatologist, who is president of the National, and Dr. Zapfe of Chicago, representing the American, held a conference Wednesday morning, which had been arranged two years ago when the American Medical Association met in Chicago.

The American board favors reciprocal agreements between the State licensing boards, by which a physician in good standing in one State can practice in another without having to undergo a special examination. The National Conference holds that this is impracticable and will be until the Federal Government passes a law requiring equal standards of medical education in all the states.

Missouri Has Agreement.

The Massachusetts and Pennsylvania laws prohibit such reciprocal agreements and so do several other states, but Missouri, for instance, has such agreements with a dozen states.

Dr. Ravogli objected strongly to the reciprocating agreements, and, as the representatives of the two societies were unable to agree on this point, all negotiations were called off. Dr. Ravogli says the chief reason for the rival society's contention is that its members want to be able to practice in summer resorts when they go away on their vacations.

Dr. Ravogli said that some of the Southern States will license a physician who has had no medical education other than a three years' course in some medical school, and that a preliminary high school or academic education is not demanded. He asserts that inferior practitioners are turned out in great numbers in this way.

A four years' course in high school, supplemented by four years' academic education in a university and then a five years' medical course is necessary to produce a competent physician, according to Dr. Ravogli and his society. He contends that a Federal law requiring that education before a physician can be licensed is a necessity, and that, until then, his society will not deal any more with the American Confederation unless it changes its position in regard to reciprocating agreements.

No Meeting for Future.

The members of the American Confederation of Reciprocating Medical Examining and Licensing Boards were members of the National Confederation of Medical Examining and Licensing Boards up to seven years ago, when the problem of reciprocity came up. The friction grew to such proportions that half of the society withdrew from membership and organized what is now the American Confederation.

No arrangements for a future conference have been made.

At the regular monthly meeting of the Board of Directors of the Title Guaranty Trust Co., held this morning, the Hon. Frederick H. Kreismann, Mayor of the City of St. Louis, was elected a director to serve in the place of August Gehner, who died May 14, last.

JUDGE MOORE'S HORSES BOLT IN ARENA AT LONDON SHOW

American Sticks to Coach Until Vanderbilt and Others Go to Rescue.

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch and New York World.

Copyright, 1910, by the Press Pub. Co. (New York World.)

LONDON, June 9.—Judge William H. Moore of New York had another escape from injury at Olympia on Wednesday. His champion mare Menella was so badly hurt she will not be able to compete again this year, thus seriously handicapping her owner's chance for blue ribbons.

The accident occured judging the entries for Hatchett's challenge cup. Judge Moore was driving four bays to a coach. On rounding a turn Menella bumped into the pole, became frightened, slipped and fell with one leg caught in a trace. The other horses bolted, dragging the fallen horse.

Alfred Vanderbilt jumped from his arena box and with the aid of E. T. Stotesbury, Lord Lonsdale and some grooms finally quieted the scared animals. The arena was in an uproar. Mrs. Moore ran into the arena calling to her husband to get off the coach, but this Judge Moore refused to do. Menella was found to be badly cut in the hind quarters and legs. Judge Moore now has collected at this show four blue ribbons and five red ones, being tied with Walter Winans for first honors.

Obeying Orders.

When Bobby returned in a drenching rain from the children's party, to which he had gone with reluctance, he was wet to the skin, but in high spirits.

"Oh, Bobby," said his mother, "you'll catch an awful cold, I'm afraid! I heard your father tell you to telephone for a cab if it rained hard—and you with your best clothes on! Why didn't you do as he told you?"

"I did," said Bobby stoutly, "and I sat on the box with the driver, same as I've always wanted to, and I had such a good time I'm almost glad I went to the party."—Youth's Companion.

EDWARDSVILLE WOMAN WHO WAS MURDERED

MRS. WM. ATWOOD.

STRAND OF HAIR IS CLEW TO MURDERER OF MRS. ATWOOD

Police Believe They Are Likely to Fix the Crime on a Woman.

Several men and a woman, known to have spent part of Tuesday night at the home of Mrs. Fannie Atwood, 410 North Second street, Edwardsville, will be rounded up by the Edwardsville police Thursday and questioned in an attempt to solve the mystery of the murder of Mrs. Atwood, whose bruised body was found Wednesday evening in the weeds of a ditch beside the Wabash Railroad, 150 yards from her home.

Slender strands of hair clutched in the woman's hands, discovered Thursday when her fingers were pried open, may fix the guilt of her murder on a woman. It is the hair of a woman. Whether it is the hair of a woman who killed her or her own hair, clutched and torn out in her death struggle, has not been determined.

It was thought when the body was first found that the woman had been killed by a train. Examination of the body and the surroundings, however, showed that she had been carried from her home and placed in the weeds with her hands folded and her limbs straightened. Hair and blood were found on a barbed wire fence between the woman's home and the place where her body was found.

Wore a Blond Wig.

Mrs. Atwood was 30 years old. She wore a blonde wig, which is missing. Her husband, William, left Edwardsville a week ago for Kansas City. A letter that arrived Wednesday morning, after his wife was dead, was pushed under the door by the postman. It stated that he was living at 1211 McGee street, that he had obtained a position and was going to send for her.

Tuesday night there were a number of callers at the home of Mrs. Atwood, and there was eating and drinking. Evidence of this was found in the form of beer and whisky bottles and sardine boxes on the kitchen table when the police went to the house.

From saloons in the neighborhood the names of men who had bought beer that night and carried it to the Atwood home were obtained. From another source it was learned that a woman also had been there.

From Miss Ella Stillwell of 409 North Main street, it was learned that Mrs. Atwood was alive at midnight. Miss Stillwell, whose home is near that of Mrs. Atwood, heard her in the yard at that time laughing and talking to some one in the house.

Probably Killed Outside.

The orderly condition of the house indicates that the woman was killed outside. When the police went there, they found the front door slightly ajar and lamps burning on tables in two rooms and there were no signs of a struggle having taken place there.

Frank Hopper, night engineer at the power house of the Illinois Traction System, near the Atwood home, heard a woman scream about 11:30 o'clock Tuesday night.

The woman seems to have been choked to death with such violence that her neck was broken. Bruises and discolorations on her face and body indicate that she was also beaten in a frenzied manner.

The police are at sea as to the motive. Mrs. Atwood's pocketbook and jewelry were not disturbed. A theory held by some is that she followed a visitor out of the house and was attacked in the yard.

'Tis True, 'Tis Pity.

"Why do you want to be a first-nighter at the theater?" "Oh, I like to go." "Got any good reason for going on first nights?" "Yes, I have, if you insist on it. I thus escape the talkative man who has seen the show."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

DISBARRED LAWYER NOMINATED FOR SOUTH DAKOTA GOVERNOR

ABERDEEN, S. D., June 9.—The nomination of George W. Egan for Governor of South Dakota, which seems certain on the face of the returns, will form a strange commentary on the surprises of politics.

Egan had been considered a political joke. He was viewed as a bad third in a three-cornered race, and his candidacy was thought by men of political sagacity to be of no import. Egan ran as an Independent Republican. He came to South Dakota from Logan, Io., about three years ago and acted as special prosecutor at the first trial of Mrs. Emma Kaufmann, who was charged with being responsible for the death of a young servant. He obtained a conviction.

Through his connection with the case of Mrs. Julia Ann O'Grady, charged with the murder of her husband, whose property he was accused of transferring to himself, he was disbarred from practicing law in South Dakota, the State Supreme Court affirming his disbarment.

Black Hand Philanthropy.

"I got a black hand letter from a philanthropist today. Says he is determined to die poor." What's the rest of it?" "Why, he states that he has hidden $10,000 in a hollow tree and demands that I go get it.—Kansas City Journal.

BERRY FARMERS BUYING AUTOS

CAIRO, Ill., June 9.—The strawberry crop, which is now nearly marketed, has brought a quarter of a million dollars into Pulaski County this season, according to statistics just compiled.

Most of the berries went to Chicago. The berries brought from $1.50 to $2.50 on the track, and from the profits some of the growers are buying automobiles.

MORGAN READY TO REORGANIZE EQUITABLE LIFE

Assets of $475,000,000 Are About to Be Discharged From Trusteeship.

PLANS ARE SECRET

Wall Street King Would Mutualize Company but for Legal Obstacles.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, June 9.—The trust agreement made by Thomas F. Ryan five years ago, by which stock control of the Equitable Life Assurance Society, with its assets of $475,000,000 are vested in Morgan J. O'Brien and George Westinghouse as trustees, expires next Wednesday. The 502 shares of stock of the Equitable which Mr. Ryan bought from James Hazen Hyde are owned by J. Pierpont Morgan, who acquired them last winter. After Mr. Ryan got stock control of the Equitable he sold some of the shares subject to the deed of trust, to the late E. H. Harriman, and when Mr. Morgan made his purchase he bought from Mr. Ryan and Mrs. Harriman.

Mr. Ryan paid Mr. Hyde $5000 a share. Mr. Harriman, it is understood, paid Mr. Ryan the same price, but when Mr. Morgan acquired them, it is said, he paid at the rate of $5000 a share, with interest added at 6 per cent annually, less the annual dividends the stock received from the Equitable's earnings. In other words, Mr. Ryan, for parting with his stock, got his money back with 6 per cent yearly added.

The reason the two trustees have as yet taken no steps to end or continue the trusteeship is that J. Pierpont Morgan has very important plans of his own concerning the future of the Equitable and the two trustees do not wish to embarrass him by doing anything which might not harmonize with his wishes.

What Mr. Morgan's plans are cannot be learned, but it is ascertained that he has advised his partners by cablegram that his plans must first be submitted to Gov. Hughes and the State Insurance Department and their approval obtained before anything definite is done. It is known that Mr. Morgan would like to make the Equitable Life actually a mutual company, but there are almost insurmountable legal obstacles in the way.

ICEMAN, LOCKED OUT IN HIS SUNDAY CLOTHING, SUES WIFE

Testifies in Divorce Suit He Traveled Route Four Days in Best Raiment.

Daniel E. Huffman had to deliver ice in his best suit of clothes because his wife locked him out of the house. He told Judge McQuillin about it in testifying in his suit for divorce against Mrs. Luella A. Huffman.

Huffman, whose home was at 3104 North Newstead avenue, went to lodge one evening dressed in his Sunday best. When he came home the door was locked. He slept in the barn.

The next morning the doors still were locked and he went out on his route in his glad raiment. He did that four days, and then he broke into the house and changed his clothing. He and his wife did not live together after that.

He says she slurred him and called him a dog and collected ice bills. On cross-examination he admitted that she was his bookkeeper. He denied that she had to do all the housework and keep the garden, too. He was willing for her to have a housegirl, but no girl would stay with her, he said.

Mrs. Huffman filed a cross-bill and is contesting the case.

TAFT WILL WATCH FINISH OF NEW YORK-WASHINGTON FLIGHT

Landing to Be Made After Aeroplanes Have Circled Around the Monument.

By Wire From the Washington Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, June 9.—The New York to Washington flight contest is taking every day a greater international character. If plans now under consideration are carried out, a final landing will be made after a complete circle around the Washington Monument. The stop will occur literally at the foot of President Taft, who is said to have agreed to be in this city at the time the aeroplanes in the race are due.

The Aero Club of Washington is yet without advices from the Wright Brothers in response to the announcement of the open contest for a race from New York via Philadelphia and Baltimore for a prize of $20,000, which has already been pledged.

There is a disposition on the part of aviation enthusiasts interested in this flight to announce the contest by cable to Hubert Latham, Louis Paulhan and Viscount De Lesseps, all of whom have successfully undertaken long flights in Europe. This announcement would be an indirect offer.

Kills Sweetheart and Himself.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., June 9.—E. H. Cowell, a mining man, shot and killed his 20-year-old sweetheart yesterday and then committed suicide. Jealousy was said to have been the cause of the tragedy.

The Post-Dispatch is the only evening newspaper in St. Louis that receives or publishes news gathered by the Associated Press.

Fined $45,000 for Importing Labor.

TUCSON, Ariz., June 9.—The Grant Bros. Construction Co. was convicted in Federal Court yesterday of importing alien labor into the United States for railroad work in Arizona and was fined $45,000. Notice of appeal was given.

Mexicans Freed Without Trial.

EL PASO, Tex., June 9.—After being held in prison in Juarez, Mexico, for two years without a trial, four natives arrested in connection with the revolutionists' assault on the Mexican custom house at Palomas in June, 1908, were set at liberty yesterday.

Northwestern Graduates 592.

CHICAGO, June 9.—Northwestern University yesterday graduated the largest class in the history of the institution, 592 persons receiving degrees or diplomas. The occasion was the fifty-second annual commencement.

ON FRIDAY YOU CANNOT AFFORD TO PASS THIS STORE BY. Why? Because in the first place every piece of This Great Furniture Stock including its collection of Rugs and Floor Covering is reduced in price from ⅓ to ½ and many lines such as China, Cut Glass, Art Pottery, Hall Clocks, Bronzes and Brass Goods, etc., which are side lines from the regular business, are offered at actual factory cost to close out. We need the room for our rapidly growing furniture business. In addition to the Pre-Inventory Sale Prices, this store on Friday will give two Eagle Trading Stamps with all cash purchases (other days but one is given). A book full (1000) of these valuable stamps is worth $2.00 in cash, $2.50 in trade or your choice of a valuable premium.

Our Credit Plan

To help ambitious salaried people and newlyweds establish comfortable homes, we offer them our credit service during this sale. There is not a thing in the service that would offend the most sensitive person. It's a plain charge account arrangement where you pay a little cash each week, as you earn the money, provisions being made for all extra calls for money that every family must experience at times. We charge no interest, no extras of any kind—we are doing our level best to help worthy families to establish comfortable homes. We'll be glad to talk the matter over in person, and demonstrate just what we can do for those of you who desire this service.

To the Bride-to-Be and Those That Know Her

We earnestly solicit the inspection of "Beginning Housekeepers" and Gift Seekers during our Pre-Inventory Sale. You are offered a saving of a third to a half on the finest exhibit of Leather Furniture in St. Louis. A magnificent selection of Mahogany Furniture, handsome collection of Den and Hall Furniture, artistic designs of Parlor Furniture, very latest patterns of Reed and Fiber Furniture, Brass Beds in all styles worth having, Dining-Room Furniture, Chamber Suits and everything that is new and worthy in Home Furnishings. You will not be urged to buy, we simply want you to come and see. If you are looking for ideas, there is no place where you can get more suggestions than from the Home Beautiful, 4th floor. This modern eight room home offers as many beautifying suggestions to the bride and groom on their golden wedding tour as the newlyweds on their honeymoon. It is our business and it will be our pleasure at all times to offer suggestions and to show you.

GOTTLIEB FELDMAN.

Gottleib Feldman Lived at 1618 Biddle Street for 56 Years.

The funeral of Gottlieb Feldman, who died Monday, took place Wednesday afternoon from the residence, 4409 Garfield avenue.

Mr. Feldman was 85 years old. He came to this country in 1850 from Germany. He was one of the pioneer settlers of St. Louis. For 56 years he lived at 1618 Biddle street. He was one of the charter members of the North St. Louis Bundeschor and took an active part in the society for over twenty-five years.

He also was a member of St. Peter's Evangelical Lutheran Church. He and his wife celebrated their golden wedding in 1898. His wife died five years ago. He was the father of nine children. Six are living.

Since the death of his wife he had made his home with his daughter, Mrs. Kate Herbst.

3 STOCKHOLDERS ASK RECEIVER FOR MISSOURI-LINCOLN

They Allege Affairs of Trust Company Have Not Been Properly Handled.

A suit for the appointment of a receiver to wind up the affairs of the Missouri-Lincoln Trust Co. was filed by Julius W. and Anna T. Koch and Adele Stroud, owners of 227 shares of stock in the corporation.

The Missouri-Lincoln Trust Co. was taken over by the Mercantile Trust Co. in the fall of 1907. The trust company was in a failing condition and would have been closed by the State Bank Examiner but for the fact that the Mercantile Trust Co., backed by the associated banks and the Clearing House of St. Louis, agreed to take it over and guarantee all depositors against loss.

The plaintiffs in the receivership suit allege that the affairs of the company have not been handled in a manner to fully protect their interests. They allege that the Mercantile Trust Co. got $100,000 more, on a supplemental contract, than it was entitled to for handling the affairs of the company, that Festus J. Wade got a $25,000 bonus for selling the Catlin tract, and that W. Frank Carter, president of the Missouri-Lincoln, is also vice-president of the Mercantile. It is alleged that Carter received a salary of $10,000 a year from the Mercantile, and that he and his partner, C. C. Collins, get $15,000 a year from the Missouri-Lincoln.

Accuses James F. Coyle.

Carter gave out a statement in which he charges that James F. Coyle is responsible for the receivership suit. Coyle was a former director of the Missouri-Lincoln. At the time of the failure he owed the company $34,000, secured by Missouri-Lincoln stock.

He filed an injunction suit against the company to restrain it from enforcing collection on the note. Blevins & Jamison, according to Carter, are attorneys for both Coyle and the plaintiffs in the suit. He says that Coyle voted the stock of the Kochs and Adele Stroud at the last stockholders' meeting.

Carter says that every act of the Mercantile Trust in connection with the affairs of the Missouri-Lincoln has had the full approval of the Missouri-Lincoln directors.

An effort was made Thursday to obtain a statement from Coyle at his office, but he had gone to University City for the day. He could not be located there Thursday.

The bonus said to have been paid to Wade is explained by Carter as a commission paid to the Mercantile Trust Co. for selling the Catlin tract. By the terms of the sale, he says, the Missouri-Lincoln profited to the extent of more than $135,000. The commission on the sale, according to Carter, was paid by the purchasing syndicate, and not by the Missouri-Lincoln.

Lost $2,500,000 in Failure.

The Missouri-Lincoln stockholders lost approximately $2,500,000 by the failure of the company.

The Missouri-Lincoln had a capital of $3,000,000 and a surplus of $1,000,000. There was considerable dissatisfaction among stockholders at the time of the failure, and threats of suits and prosecutions were made. The panic, which broke a few months later, prevented any action being taken by the dissatisfied stockholders at that time.

Leaves Caught in Eddies Formed by Swift News Winds

NEW YORK, June 9.—A course of lectures on agriculture delivered in the Tombs prison is being tried and is pronounced a decided success by the prison authorities. All the prisoners in the institution have now heard the first lecture of the series and were much interested in it. The lecturer was George E. Manchester, a practical farmer of Winsted, Conn. He pointed the way for those who wish to turn from their old ways and go "back to the soil" after their release.

Not long ago the Rev. Charles P. Tinker of the Protestant Episcopal City Mission, a regular visitor at the Tombs, decided that he could interest the prisoners in technical lectures. The plan was approved by the department of correction and may be adopted in other prisons and reform institutions throughout the country.

The lecturer told the men of the coming revival of farming and laid particular stress upon the fact that the demand for farm labor is so great now that so long as a man does his work honestly, the farmers do not ask about his past. At the conclusion of the lecture there was a general discussion. The prisoners asked the lecturer many questions and one of them made a long speech on farming in the West.

Millionaires Rob Women in Stage Coach of Gems.

SEATTLE, Wash., June 9.—A stage coach holdup, planned as an amusement for the guests in Harry Whitney Treat's new English four-in-hand, was carried out late yesterday with such perfection that $7500 worth of valuables were "lifted" from the passengers, and the police force of this city was thrown into a frenzy of bandit chasing.

Treat's coach, a recent importation from England and equipped with liveried postillions, posthorn and the like, set out yesterday with a load of society people, including Mrs. George H. Snowden, a niece of President Taft; Mrs. J. H. Ballinger, a niece of Secretary Ballinger, and Mrs. J. D. Farrell, wife of the head of the Harriman lines in the Northwest.

As the coach neared the Country Club, four masked men leaped from the brush beside the road. Under the threat of their weapons, Treat reined in and the passengers were "held up." Then Treat was ordered to drive on. The property all was returned before the police, hastily summoned, reached the clubhouse.

"The bandits" were several sportive millionaires.

Official Claque to Encourage Opera Singers.

BOSTON, June 9.—When the Boston Opera House opens its doors for its second season, next October, with the prices of the best seats raised from $3 to $5, it will be supplied with an entirely new operatic institution which has flourished for years in Europe but never hitherto has been tried here. This is an official claque which shall lead the applause of the audiences.

Boston has given signs of enjoying opera, but does not make any particular fuss about it. The management of the opera house believes that it will be best for the welfare of the institution if there is more sound of approval to reward the singers, who more than once have complained bitterly of the coldness of the audiences.

Mosquitoes Capture Ship While It Is 300 Miles at Sea.

GALVESTON, Tex., June 9.—Millions of mosquitoes, varying in size from the largest gallinipper to a bumble bee, swarmed down upon the steamship Lucy Luckenbach, Capt. Frank Dalton, bound from New York to Galveston, when the vessel was 300 miles from this port.

The mosquitoes attacked the officers and crew and drove them from deck to their quarters. Invading the hold of the ship, they drove the men on deck and they were forced to keep their hands and arms and faces wet with crude oil. For nearly a day the pests had possession of the vessel until they were finally smoked out.

Three members of the crew were sent to the hospital here for treatment, and every member bears sores from the stings of the insects.

OUT-OF-ORDER STOMACHS FEEL FINE AFTER TAKING A LITTLE DIAPEPSIN.

As there is often some one in your family who suffers an attack of Indigestion or some form of Stomach trouble, why don't you keep some Diapepsin in the house handy?

This harmless blessing will digest anything you can eat without the slightest discomfort, and overcome a sour, gassy Stomach five minutes after.

Tell your pharmacist to let you read the formula plainly printed on these 50-cent cases of Pape's Diapepsin, then you will readily see why it makes Indigestion, Sour Stomach, Heartburn and other distress go in five minutes and relieves at once such miseries as Belching of Gas, Eructations of sour undigested food, Nausea, Headache, Dizziness, Constipation and other Stomach disorders.

Some folks have tried so long to find relief from Indigestion and Dyspepsia or an out-of-order stomach with common every-day cures advertised that they have about made up their minds that they have something else wrong, or believe theirs is a case of Nervousness, Gastritis, Catarrh of the Stomach or Cancer.

This, no doubt, is a serious mistake. Your real trouble is, what you eat does not digest; instead, it ferments and sours, turns to acid, Gas and Stomach poison, which putrify in the digestive tract and intestines, and, besides poison the breath with nauseous odors.

A hearty appetite, with thorough digestion, and without the slightest discomfort or misery of the Stomach, is waiting for you as soon as you decide to try Pape's Diapepsin.—ADV.

JOHN D.'S MILLION TO CURE 2,000,000 OF THE HOOKWORM

C. W. Stiles Tells Doctors That Remedy for Disease Will Create New South.

The $1,000,000 that has been given by John D. Rockefeller for the eradication of the hookworm in the South will reclaim and rejuvenite 2,000,000 poor whites in the South and make good, energetic citizens of them, according to C. W. Stiles, professor of zoology in the United States Public Health and Marine Hospital Service, the leading authority on the hookworm in the United States.

He spoke on the subject Thursday before the Section of Public Health of the American Medical Association at Knights of Columbus Hall, Olive street and Grand avenue.

In the present dearth of labor in the South, he says, the economic value of the results to be achieved by the Rockefeller donation cannot be estimated. It will mean a new South.

Discovered Cause of Disease.

Prof. Stiles discovered the cause, the remedy and the preventative for the hookworm disease. The cause, he says, is unsanitary conditions and the custom of the poor whites and the negroes going barefooted, infection taking place through the feet. It is infectious, but not contagious. The cure is a simple treatment by drugs. Prof. Stiles says the victims can be cured for 50 cents apiece. The way to prevent it is to educate the poor people of the South along lines of sanitation.

The "lazy" disease, he says, is very widespread. In some schools he has found 40 to 95 per cent of the children suffering from it. While they are victims of the disease efforts to educate them are almost useless.

Negroes are the chief distributors of the disease. They are not affected as severely by it as the white people are.

It is now known, the professor says, that the condition known as cotton mill anemia, for which the cotton mills were formerly blamed, is due instead to the hookworm.

To Become Thrifty Men.

The economic effects have been far-reaching, he says. The poor whites have been kept poor because, afflicted with the disease, they could not compete with the negroes in agricultural pursuits.

With the South fast becoming a manufacturing center and opportunities opening up for the whites to improve their condition by going into the mills and factories, Prof. Stiles thinks that they only need to be cured of the hookworm disease to become as energetic and thrifty and successful as Northern whites.

THE ICE MAN KNOWS.

It may sound queer, but the best recommendation a refrigerator can have comes from the ice man. His daily trips to the ice chamber of the refrigerator helped to educate him in the good or bad qualities of the different makes on the market. For this reason, the remark of one ice man the other day is interesting to anyone contemplating the purchase of a refrigerator.

"I am always pleased when I find a 'Quick Comfort' Refrigerator installed in a home, as I am sure of a satisfied customer. It uses the least ice, and the next morning always finds plenty left from the previous day. The refrigerator is always cool and sweet-smelling. It saves us many complaints, as a poor refrigerator eats up ice so fast the poor iceman is accused of leaving short weight. Incidentally, I want to say that about 60 per cent of my customers use a 'Quick Comfort' Refrigerator and I have yet to find one who did not praise it."

"QUICK COMFORT" REFRIGERATORS

have CHARCOAL-FILLED WALLS—that's why they give such satisfaction.

Charcoal is the only filling which retains the cold and does not generate mold or heat. Remember this point when buying a Refrigerator—then you will always be sure of getting the best.

USED IN OVER A HUNDRED WAYS

CHILDREN MAKE SUGGESTIONS FOR A SAFER FOURTH

In Letters to the Post-Dispatch They Plan Celebrations Without Danger.

TO AID ASSOCIATION

Sisters Want a Picnic Where There Will Be "Good Things to Eat."

To the Boys and Girls of St. Louis

THE Post-Dispatch invites your suggestions as to how the Fourth of July may be celebrated without the use of firearms and deadly explosives.

Give your ideas of a substitute for the noisy demonstrations that shock the sick and nervous and endanger your own lives.

Your letters should not exceed 150 words in length and should be accompanied by the full name and address of the writer in each case. Send your communications to The Fourth of July Editor, Post-Dispatch.

St. Louis boys and girls, letters to the Post-Dispatch indicate, are in sympathy to an unexpected extent with the plan for a sane Fourth of July in which dangerous fireworks shall have no part. The children themselves promise to be of great aid to the Patriotic Independence Day Association, which wants to take their fireworks away from them and give them something less likely to be destructive of life and limb.

The Patriotic Independence Day Association will have a meeting at the Mercantile Club Friday afternoon, at which permanent officers will be elected. Arrangements will be made for parades, religious observances, sports and games as substitutes for fireworks.

In a letter to the Post-Dispatch, William L. Proctor of 3855 West Pine boulevard is fearful that it will "seem sad to kids and make some of them cry," but he advises them to "cheer up and have a big parade."

Would Send Poor to Country.

"I think it would be much nicer," writes John Vonan of 4727 Michigan avenue, "for us to give money to the poor children who live in tenement houses and let them have a turn in the country. A few small Roman candles would not harm them, and at the same time it would please them very much."

"Take a nice, long car ride," writes Hazel Zettler, 7 years old, of 2638 Pine street, "and when tired of riding go to some nice friend that has a large yard, where you can jump and play games. I play the guitar and will have papa bring his violin along and play music. We will have the little children in the neighborhood go and have them recite nice pieces and sing nice songs.

Wants Good Things to Eat.

"Have plenty of good things to eat and let papa discharge the fireworks if there are any. And have the children to stand back, behave and look on. I can't think of anything else."

Hazel's sister Ethel, 6 years old, would like to "go to some nice park and take lots of good things to eat along."

"Gather as many children in the neighborhood as possible," writes Ethel, "and play games of all kinds. If there are any fireworks have papa to have us stand back a good distance. Let papa discharge them, if he knows how, and have nothing that might come over our way and hurt us. I think that's good."

CONTRACTOR M'DONALD CAN'T REMEMBER GIVING A NECKLACE TO ACTRESS, BUT KNEW HER

Equally Uncertain as to Whether Miss Lowrie Is Blonde or Brunette.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, June 9.—John B. McDonald, the subway builder, was called as a witness in a grand larceny case to tell what he knew of a pearl necklace, declared to be worth $3500 and said to have been given by him to Jeanette E. Lowrie.

The plaintiff in the case was Mrs. Carrie Lee, wife of a decorator, at Stapleton, Staten Island. She had caused the arrest of Frank Grant, calling himself a broker, at 115 Broadway, who had advertised for a loan on diamonds and other gems in pawn. Through him she met Miss Lowrie, who talked so familiarly of Mr. McDonald that Mrs. Lee thought she must be all right and loaned her $600 on the tickets.

Grant told Mrs. Lee, she said, when offering her the tickets, that the necklace had been pawned by Jeanette Lowrie, an actress, former wife of Thomas Q. Seabrooke, the actor.

After parting with her money, Mrs. Lee feared that she had been deceived and swore out a warrant for Grant. He was lodged in the Richmond County Jail Monday in default of $7500 bail.

HOW TO KNOW A WOMAN BY THE CLOTHES SHE WEARS

By MARGUERITE MARTYN.

THE GINGHAM GIRL.

Being No. 3 in a Pictorial Series Drawn for the Post-Dispatch.

MY gingham girl has other costumes, but I'm sure all her neighbors, who covertly look for the little domestic scene enacted at her front door each morning, will agree that she never looks so well, is never so becomingly attired, as when, tidy and fresh and smiling as a morning glory, she and her small daughter wave goodby to the head of the house as far as they can see him down the street.

The picture would not be complete without the gingham frock she wears, so intimately and essentially is it to be associated with the homey, housewifely woman.

TRUNK CONTAINING JEWELS IS SOUGHT IN HACKENSACK RIVER

Baggageman Says He Threw it From Train After Taking Part of Contents.

HACKENSACK, N. J., June 9.—There are more rowboats on the Hackensack River these days than ever before. They are clustered about the Pennsylvania Railroad bridge and every boat has grappling irons. The men aboard are hunting for a trunk containing jewels that Morris W. Maxwell, an assistant baggage master of the Pennsylvania Railroad, now under arrest in Philadelphia, says he threw from a train into the river.

The trunk belonged to J. R. Willing of Philadelphia. After looting it of part of its contents, Maxwell fearing detection, pushed it off the baggage car. The searchers have thus far been unsuccessful and divers hired by the railroad have also searched in vain for the missing treasure.

KELLNER GIRL LAST SEEN AT PRAYER IN CHURCH

Witness Found Who Says Janitor Was Closely Attentive While Child Knelt.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., June 9.—The one missing link of evidence to establish the fact that Alma Kellner was last seen alive in St. John's Catholic Church, was obtained last night by Frank Fehr, the murdered child's uncle. Mrs. Rosa Staeuble, who lives a few blocks from the scene of the murder will be called today at the Coroner's inquest.

She was probably the last person save the murderer who saw the child alive. Mrs. Staeuble says Joseph Wendling, the missing janitor who is being sought in connection with the murder, was in the church when she left and that she noticed his moving about the church several times during her stay of a quarter of an hour, and that she had remarked at the close atention he paid to the little girl, who was on her knees praying.

MEXICAN ANCIENT ART SPECIMENS INSTALLED HERE

Carving and Sculpture Work in Jade and Stone Are on Exhibition.

Seventy-five specimens of ancient and prehistoric Central American and Mexican art have been installed in the archeological department of the Art Museum by the St. Louis branch of the Archeological Institute of America. One hundred and twenty-five more will reach St. Louis Friday.

The specimens, which consist of carvings and sculpture work in jade and stone, and pottery showing a high development of ceramic art, were taken from volcanic lakes in Guatemala and other parts of Central America hitherto regarded as inaccessible.

The expedition, under the leadership of Edgar L. Hewett, which brought back these specimens was the first conducted under the auspices of the St. Louis branch of the Archeological Institute of America. Filled with enthusiasm at the success of the first expedition, Prof. Hewett left St. Louis Thursday, after remaining here only one day to see the exhibit installed in the Art Museum, for Santa Fe, where he will organize another expedition to search for relics of ancient Aztec art in New Mexico.

Besides vases, bowls and dishes of many kinds, thought to have been used by prehistoric Americans for religious purposes, Prof. Hewett brought back with him many photographs showing tremendous ruins in parts of Central America which, up to the time that his expedition penetrated the regions between February and May of this year, had been unexplored. The swamps, forests, climatic conditions and supposed savagery of the people had deterred other scientists.

These photographs show monuments in stone 27 feet high, representing priests, sacred animals and men high in the councils of prehistoric tribes, corresponding, he thinks, to the medicine men of North American Indians.

SAYS CONGRESSMEN CAN'T BE HONEST; "ALWAYS WAS A JOKER," IS CANNON'S REPLY

Former Representative's Charge Is Taken Humorously by House Leaders.

By Wire From the Washington Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, June 9.—The statement of ex-Representative Samuel L. Powers of Massachusetts at the banquet of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company in Boston was reported to the members of Congress. Powers had said:

"A good moral character is necessary to membership in this company, but such a character is not possible in Congress and therefore I retired from Congress."

Powers' utterance was repeated to Speaker Cannon.

"Did he say that?" asked Uncle Joe. "Sam Powers was one of the greatest jokers in Congress while he was among us. He did not have to try to be funny. It came natural with him and I am not going to attempt a come-back at his announcement that a man can't stay honest in Congress."

Representative Champ Clark, the Democratic leader, said:

"Well, Sam's still joking. The statement that a man's can't keep honest in Congress can't be anything except a joke."

Representative Albert S. Burleson of Texas laughed heartily at Powers' remark.

"I have often wondered," said he, "why so many men can't stay in Congress for any length of time, but I never knew till now why it was. Powers' statement is highly enlightening."

FOLK BOOMERS WANT HAND IN N. Y. CAMPAIGN

Western Element Afraid Wall Street Will Be Too Strongly Represented.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, June 9.—Former Gov. Folk's friends here are deeply interested in the attitude that the new State chairman, John A. Dix, will indicate when he appoints the campaign committee, authorized by the State Committee, to take charge of the gubernatorial campaign next fall. The Bryan Democrats have asked recognition in the make-up of the committee and the decision on this request will indicate whether the party is to be reorganized on a harmony basis, or whether the campaign is to be waged under Wall street direction.

The effect of the election here next fall cannot be overestimated. A Democratic victory would be an overwhelming indication of Democratic success in the national election two years hence, while a defeat would go far to neutralize the effect, the country over, of the Republican insurrection against the New England tariff bill and Cannon despotism. As the Folk support here comes mainly from the Bryan element, they are bringing every possible influence to bear upon Chairman Dix to give them representation on the Campaign Committee and it is probable their demands will be granted.

The scheme of the Jersey Folk boomers to have a big banquet, to be addressed by the Missourian, is held up pending a decision from Folk as to what date would suit him. He has a string of chautauqua engagements, and the desire is to arrange the Jersey banquet to dovetail in with the other dates.

The Post-Dispatch is the only evening newspaper in St. Louis that receives or publishes news gathered by the Associated Press.

SIR GEORGE NEWNES, FOUNDER OF LONDON PUBLICATIONS, DIES

LONDON, June 9.—Sir George Newnes, the founder of the Westminster Gazette Tit Bits and the Strand Magazine and the donor of the international chess trophy bearing his name, died today.

Sir George was born March 13, 1851, and formerly was a Liberal member of Parliament, representing Swansea town.

He was the son of a Derbyshire clergyman.

KILLS HERSELF FOR GRIEF OVER BROTHER'S DEATH

Jennie Kostman, aged 25, of 721 O'Fallon street, killed herself at 11 a. m. Thursday by taking carbolic acid. Grief over the death of her brother David, which occurred three months ago, is believed by her relatives to be responsible for the act.

A picture of the brother was found on her pillow. Her father runs a grocery store at the O'Fallon street address. Before taking poison she wrote three letters in Hebrew.

A SUMMER PUZZLE.

Republican organs tell us there is no insurgency worth mentioning outside of Congress, where a few deluded demagogues are trying to obstruct the popular as well as the party will. We might believe the organs were it not for an occasional election. The bye congressional elections in Missouri, New York and Massachusetts gave a hollow tone to the assurances of the organs, and now the Iowa Republican primaries make them sound like a penny whistle in a gale.

The ratio of regularity to insurgency in the House of Representatives is about 16 to 1. In the Iowa primaries it was three to eight. Three stand-patters survived in eleven congressional primaries. At this ratio the figuring out of a stand-pat majority in the next Congress is a good summer puzzle for the organs.

President Ripley of the Santa Fe says there will be a big advance in freight rates, which again suggests that the railroad bill contains no provision for the valuation of the physical properties of the railroads. A necessary amendment would give the Interstate Commerce Commission two guesses instead of one as to whether a proposed rate is fair or unfair.

IN MADISON.

Mayor Garesche of Madison, Ill., says the town needs revenue and the saloons are the source of it. There are 64 saloons to serve 2500 persons, or one saloon to 39 in population.

Admitting the force of the Mayor's candid contention, would it not be well to consider the strain on the several groups of 39 each into which the population is divided? The real tax in Madison must be on these devoted bunches which are endeavoring to filter money into the municipal treasury through the 64 saloons. We don't see how they can have time for diversions, such as business, or recreation, such as recuperating from the indulgences of the evening previous.

A general custom is for the saloons to take the population in relays, thus giving one group a chance to recover while another is on the job. But it is all day and overtime for the dwellers in Madison where yet that momentous question has not arisen—whether it is better to be all drunk half the time or half drunk all the time. Our compliments to the self-sacrificing 39s. They must be mighty good people in Madison.

Three congressional districts in Iowa went stand-pat and are hoping the worst is not yet.

NEW STREET CAR ETIQUETTE.

Can St. Louis retain its poise and self-respect and be behind Capt. McCulloch in gallantry and politeness? An emphatic negative is the instant reply. But Capt. McCulloch has formulated a code of etiquet to govern the conduct of conductors. So perfect is it that it must have sprung, not from the head, but from the heart of Chesterfield's most devoted follower. It drips chivalry. It is complete, impeccable, elastic, adjustable to every need that may grow from the complex relations of street car men and a heterogeneous public.

But small would be the gain if the public is not also provided with a code. It must have one. There must be a heartful, Alphonse-Gaston reciprocation, without which true politeness is as jug-handled as an apartment house lease and withers, fades and dies like an unwatered violet. So we will reciprocate.

1. All conductors and motormen and the railways corporation itself are entitled to civil, polite treatment. Do not jeer, sneer or scold at them. Do not grumble if you are jarred loose from your moorings or sarcastically allude to obsolete equipment. If you can't say something agreeable, say nothing, even if there be provocation.

2. Be patient. If cars line up, congest and delay you 20 minutes to the fracture of a million-dollar engagement, don't offend by mentioning water. Water is a vulgar term in the corporation lexicon. Say rather, "Charmed, I'm sure."

3. Always remember that you are in careful hands; that everything that can be done is being done in your service and for your comfort and convenience. Don't take a handicap from Capt. McCulloch. Beat him at his own game.

4. Insist on paying your fare if, by chance, the conductor is absorbed in studying new ways to add to your pleasure. It is worth it.

5. If your change is wrong, hand back any excess, and if it is the other way, say only, "Beg pardon, look!" If he doesn't look, repress your gorge. It is what the conductor would do. Otherwise he will have the advantage of you.

These simple reciprocal and complementary rules will form new and valuable contributions to the sum of good nature and loveliness. Capt. McCulloch's are models in conception, form and matter. Ours must shine with a reflected light, but their defects will be overlooked in consideration of good intentions. We bow to Capt. McCulloch.

GOVERNMENT BY AGREEMENT.

It appears that the agreement between the President and the railroad presidents went beyond the withdrawal of the Government's injunction suit on the pledge of the railroads involved not to attempt to advance rates until the pending railroad bill is passed by Congress. The President's message to Congress shows that the agreement related to legislation and to certain future action of the Government. The message urged Congress to pass at once with an emergency clause that section of the bill which empowers the Interstate Commerce Commission to pass upon the reasonableness of rates before they go into effect. The President frankly stated that a part of his understanding with the railroad presidents was that he should expedite legislation looking to the supervision of new rate schedules by the Interstate Commerce Commission. He asked Congress to co-operate with him to that end.

The Post-Dispatch was inclined to approve the conference of the President with the railroad men as a possible means of averting by reasonable adjustment a long and costly struggle in the courts. With the understanding that the withdrawal of the suit was based merely upon a promise of the railroads to rescind their alleged illegal agreement and not to put into effect the new pool rates, we were inclined to approve the result. So far as these peaceful and desirable ends were accomplished the outcome was good.

But the President's message indicates that there was something more in the conclusion. How much more no one outside of the conference can tell, because it was secret. That is the unfortunate thing about such conferences. The public, whose interest is greatest in deals between its representatives and the agents of private interests, is ignorant of the details and of the terms of the agreements. But at least the President is using the combined vast influence of himself and the railroad interests to bring into shape congressional action as an important measure affecting the control of railroads. Whether there is in the agreement, in addition to the promise of congressional control, a pledge to shape the action of courts or commissioners remains to be seen.

The President may be justified in refraining from using the courts to enforce laws in cases where the desired results may be obtained without prosecution. He may dismiss suits on account of the repentance and reform pledges of offenders. But it is not within his constitutional power or prerogative to enter into agreements and to carry out bargains with regard to legislation by Congress or action by courts or commissions. It is highly improper for him to agree with the agents of interests as to legislation affecting them; it is highly improper to urge such agreements as a means of controlling Congress or of attempting to shape congressional or court action in accordance with them. The President places himself in a false and dangerous position when he attempts to go beyond his constitutional functions as an adviser of Congress and an enforcer of the laws. When he departs from his proper functions he becomes a would-be czar, a go-between or a beggar, and none of these roles is becoming to a president.

There is no provision in the Constitution, nor is there any possibility of popular approval for government by presidential agreement, treaty or decree.

Considering the possibilities for delay, the discovery that the east pier of the Free Bridge is 18 inches out of line may be attributed to fortuitous circumstance.

"ELEVATION" FOR THE MAYAS.

The "pacification" of the Mayas by the Diaz administration is likely to be thorough. It is likely to be "kill and burn" in the Maya country until there are not enough of them left to stand on the ancient rights they claim to have inherited from their ancestors.

As descendants of the civilized people who built the great stone cities of Central America before Columbus landed, they have the magnificent ruins of these cities left to show claim to a higher civilization than that to which living "Indians" have been elevated after centuries of "pacification," with the military governor and the missionary following the firing line.

One logical result in "world politics" will be increasing refinement of language. Soft words for hard deeds make the sort of history in which Toryism has recorded itself since it took its first lessons in political policies from Cain.

Hence it is logical to expect to hear that the Mayas will be greatly elevated as soon as they have been sufficiently pacified.

Citizens of the United States who go to Latin-American republics and engage in revolutions ought to be willing to abide by the rules of the game. Those rules are sometimes severe, but there is no compulsion about playing and there is little occasion for excitement in Washington because some adventurer turns up as "the remains." There is no particular reason why he should be so much more important when dead than he was when alive.

One doctor told of a marvel he had performed and another said he would try it out the first chance he got. No man stops to consider that he has the future glory of some surgeon in his midst.

The opponent of Diaz for the presidency of Mexico has been jailed. Thus we learn beforehand how popular political recreancy may react to confound upstart ambition.

A wave of reform has struck the villages over the river. We trust it will not run into one of the numerous banks, in which case it would, of course, get broke.

In choosing Secretaries Meyer and Wilson as envoys to greet Roosevelt, Mr. Taft had in mind the necessity for making peace as universal as possible.

A 6-cent rate for water is all right, provided it is not measured in kilowatts.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.

An Appreciative Reader.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

In answer to one man's opinion I wish to say he does not know a good story when he sees one, as "The House of the Whispering Pines" is one of the best stories A. K. Green ever wrote. And what he calls a war of words is, in my opinion, one of the most interesting parts, as it keeps you guessing which side will win the case. And he asks "did you purchase the story by the yard?" Did he expect to get the whole story in one paper, by paying 1 cent for it? OLGA.

Women Murderers.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

I read "Critic's" letter in the Monday Post-Dispatch and must say that Critic is of my opinion exactly concerning women murderers. As soon as men awake to the fact that a woman has no more right to take a life than a man, and make women suffer for their crimes, there will be fewer of them taking worthy men's lives for insurance money and other reasons.

EQUAL RIGHTS.

Underfed Puppies.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Is there not a law to compel people who trade in animals to give them enough to eat and treat them humanely? At a bird store on Franklin avenue they had three tiny little puppies in the show window. They were dirty, sick and hungry looking little things, shivering with cold; one poor little thing trying to crawl under the other for warmth. They appeared to be ill fed, and I understand that it is the practice to keep these puppies with too little food so as to stunt them, as they are then more salable. If strong, able-bodied men want to trade in such things as animals, why do they not look after them, treat them humanely, give them comfortable quarters, and above all feed them enough?

MRS. MARGARET.

Flying Machine Factories.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

In regard to factories needed in St. Louis, I suggest factories for flying machines of every practical type; thus pushing forward one of the ambitions of the Aero Club of St. Louis; namely, to make St. Louis the big center of air craft manufacturing in the world.

G. L. HOLTON.

Congested Appeal Docket.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

If the members of the Bar Association were not in the habit of taking themselves so seriously one would think that the resolution recently offered at one of their meetings, proposing that the association make an investigation of the Court of Appeals to ascertain the cause for the congested condition of its docket, was but a bit of legal opera bouffe perpetrated by some of the younger members. However, they seemed to regard the matter with the gravity habitual with that august body.

If the investigations are to be in order, why not suggest to the Court of Appeals to investigate the Bar Association itself and purge the conscience of its members for the purpose of ascertaining to what extent the congested condition of the Court of Appeals docket, and in fact the dockets of all of our appellate courts, is due to the number of cases appealed by the members of the Bar Association, not because they have meritorious causes for appeal, but cases that are appealed for the purpose of defeating the ends of justice by long delays. A careful consideration of our reports will force one to the conclusion that 50 per cent of the appeals are without merit and for purposes of delay only. Yet all cases must be carefully considered by the appellate courts and it takes as much investigation on the part of the court to examine a case and find that it was fairly tried by the lower court and involves nothing but oft-reiterated propositions of law, as it does to consider cases that develop a meritorious cause for appeal.

The proper conception of the duty of a lawyer is for him to consider that it is his part fairly and impartially to aid the court in its effort to regulate human differences and do justice between man and man—his present conception of his duty is what leads me to denounce him as the real anarchist. JAMES T. ROBERTS.

Boys' Brigade Explained.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Yesterday's "Letters from the People" contained an article signed by L. G. Pope, who opposes militarism, especially in connection with Sunday schools.

I am surprised that he cannot understand what good this organization called "United Boys' Brigade of America" can do and the good they are doing. We are not as he called it, recruiting stations for the army, and it is not our purpose; we do not oppose the working man and his rights; over one-half of our boys are working boys themselves. Of course there are a good many of the boys who will join the army or militia as they grow older, and good soldiers they make, just the kind Uncle Sam wants. Surely there is no harm in that! They are sticking by our Government, which every citizen of the United States should do, workingman or not.

And let me explain, the real purpose of our brigade. About five years ago a certain young man, then a boy, heard of the U. B. B. A. and was encouraged to join, which he did bringing four or five others with him. All of these boys opposed the Sunday school, but were willing to endure it in order to belong to the military company. Six months afterwards the Sunday-school teacher had got in his good work and now the boys are all members of one of the best churches of the city. Many boys are converted in this way, whom you could not get near a Sunday school in any other way. It is a good work and we shall keep it up. I am sorry Mr. Pope has got the wrong impression of us.

"Safe and Sane."

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

If you do not have the noise and din of the fire cracker and bomb on the Fourth some fool hypocrite may try to play politics by spreading his wings and telling the youth all about the "gee-lori-us" anniversary of the birth of human liberty in the Philippine Islands. With a $300,000,000 war budget in times of peace, to sustain a colonial policy all other oratory seems too mushy to appeal even to the kids. The Fourth was but is not and never will be again until we can believe in the Constitution.

How are you going to "inculcate the idea in the youthful mind that the Fourth is the anniversary of the birth of human liberty" when you have sickened, died and buried human liberty in every possession of this Government—should I not say, sickened, killed and cremated human liberty in the Philippine Islands? Let us be true to ourselves and tell the youth that the Fourth is a living human lie and ought to be abolished as a hurrah day. If the boys blow their heads off now they will not go to war blowing the heads of others, wearing a uniform when they become older. JOHN P. HERMANN.

Penalties of Dryness.

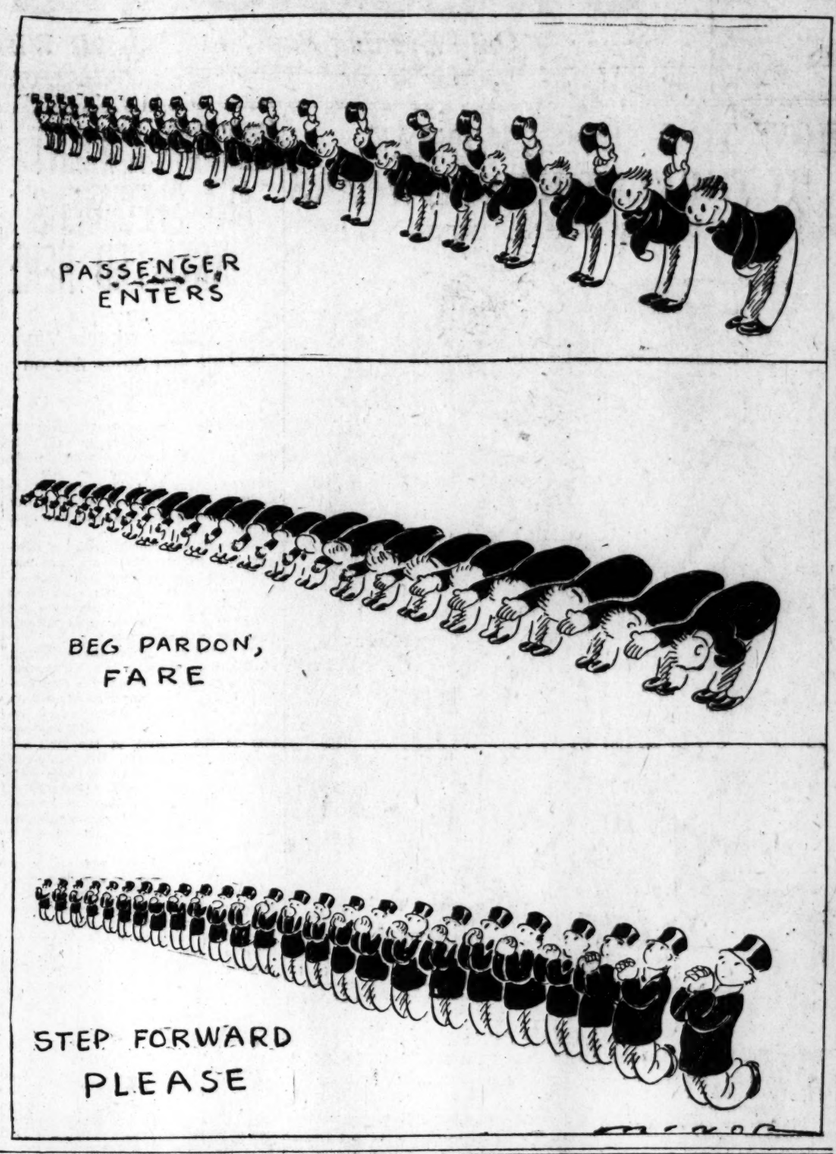
Chillicothe is a dry town and therefore badly needs revenue. It has consequently taken to fining Wabash conductors whenever they stop on a street in that city. They don't have much use for the streets, but they do need the money.

SCHOOL FOR CONDUCTORS



MORE FOR MR. TAFT TO THINK ABOUT.

From the New York World.

When the insurgent movement reaches the steel district of Pennsylvania it is no longer a riot but a revolution.

For 24 years John Dalzell has represented the steel interests in the House of Representatives. He was elected to the Fiftieth Congress in 1886 and has served continuously ever since. He is the color sergeant of the Old Guard; the guide, counselor and friend of Uncle Joe; one of the last of the Bourbons. He represents everything that Cannonism and Aldrichism represent. He is the embodiment of privilege and extreme protection. He is a living alliance between politics and business. Yet after nearly a quarter of a century of practically uncontested control of his district he is saved from annihilation at the primaries by a narrow margin of 400 dubious and disputed votes.

When Mr. Taft became President he found the Aldriches, the Cannons and the Dalzells in control of the organization of both branches of Congress. He allied himself with them in order to obtain the use of their power to carry out his administration program. No President ever made a poorer guess or drove a worse bargain. Mr. Taft's partnership with the reactionaries has brought him nothing that he could not have taken for himself; it has cost him an enormous measure of public confidence, and the rank and file of the Republican party is now busy repudiating the faction upon which the President is leaning.

LUCK IN SYMPATHY.

From the Atchison Globe.

The woman who is always looking for sympathy has this kind of luck: Five of her chickens die, and the neighbors are sorry; within two hours along comes a woman who has lost 16 chickens, and the neighbors promptly forget the first applicant for a sympathetic teacher had got in his good work and now the boys are all members of one of the best churches of the city. Many boys are converted in this way, whom you could not get near a Sunday school in any other way. It is a good work and we shall keep it up. I am sorry Mr. Pope has got the wrong impression of us.

"I have put up at many a hotel in this town," said a dyed-in-the-wool Bostonian, "but nowhere have I found the concrete comforts you may have at any of the better class hostelries in our city. For example, there you will find in every room a Bible and a clothes stretcher."

MILADY NICOTINE AND I.

I.

MILADY NICOTINE and I have called it off. Our love is dead,
And love that lit Milady's eye has turned to scornfulness instead.
We two that twenty years were wed in spirit have agreed to quit,
And lo! Milady is ahead in presents and the like, towit:

Four pipes,
One tobacco jar,
Three ash trays,
And one frog-locked smoking jacket.

II.

MILADY NICOTINE and I were long time quite a loving pair,
But all of that is past and gone, and nowadays we neither care.
We pass with nothing but a stare, but still my expectation is
That she'll return in good repair my own engagement pledges, viz:

One average weight,
Two clear eyes,
And one feel-like-something.

ON JEFFRIES EATING RAISINS.

Someone should by this time have pointed out that the newspapers are giving more space to the affair between Jeffries and Johnson than they gave in an equal period to that between Russia and Japan.

This is not an important thought. It is only amusing. Probably the affair between Jeffries and Johnson interests more people than did that between Russia and Japan. Since the newspapers probably know what they are doing, we must, at any rate, believe it to be so. Whether we approve of it, or it is a bad sign, or it is a warning against too much peace, is an altogether different matter.

What we have to consider is that it is a fact, and probably a not very difficult one to explain. The conflict between the whites and blacks is more acute than that between the whites and yellows has ever become. We have the black peril with us; the yellow peril is a thing apart.

This must also be so, else we would not have found in the morning paper which unblushingly offered us this amusing commentary upon the times the photograph bearing the title, "Jeffries Eating Raisins."

One would imagine that we do not care whether or how Jeffries eats raisins—but apparently we do care. That he eats them at all probably has some significance understood by the esoteric; how he eats them, by the same token, has a deeper significance with the ultra-esoteric.

Not all of us can look at that photograph of Jeffries eating raisins and discover either the ultimate prospect for the Caucasian race or how we should bet.

But we must assume that some of us can, and that is what counts.

ABOUT BASEBALL MANAGERS.

Mr. Hedges has not taken our advice yet, and he is a bad last. Is he not now in a mood to listen? We have been urging him this past year to try his team doing without a manager at all.

The possibilities of this occurred to us while the Browns were on an Eastern tour last season. They had been having a long run of defeats. In Boston, as we recall, Mr. McAleer, then managing the team, engaged in some sort of altercation. He was seized by the police, and removed from the scene. We don't remember whether he was jailed for the time being or not, but at any rate, he was at least constructively jailed.

The Browns won—for the first time in weeks.

We have always wanted some owner to apply the moral.

NOTES AND QUERIES.

Write but one question. No bets decided. Business addresses not given. Legal questions must be simple. Address "Answers," Post-Dispatch, using postal cards when convenient.

KING.—In your answer of June 7, for $10,000 read $1000.

DADDY.—There is no month in which divorces are not granted.

GEORGE.—Summer garden closing dates have not been announced.

MOTHER.—See the manager of any large machine shop in regard to your boy.

HIBBETS, GEORGE AND PARX.—We do not know the answers to your questions.

W. P. P.—There is no such law in Missouri under the statutes of Landlord and Tenant, or other act.

WIDOW.—Phone the Provident Association as to what is best to do for your boys during vacation.

A. T. C.—Dining room car conductors are employed by superintendent of dining room cars; pay, $75 a month.

K. C. G.—"Maternity" is published by the Neale Publishing Co., New York. We do not know that this is the book you wish.

MRS. M. G.—If you were divorced a year ago or more, you may remarry, whether the lawyer who obtained the divorce has been paid or not.

TOM.—Marriage licenses for St. Louis County are issued at Clayton. Take Kirkwood-Ferguson car at Wellston, if you are at Wellston.

S. J.—Your wife's signature is necessary under the circumstances you state, as facts will no doubt be exposed on conveying the property.

OUT-OF-JOB.—Copyists in office of Recorder of Deeds receive 5 cents per 100 words, deputies $125 per month, indexers $100, comparers $90. See the Recorder.

JAYHAWKER.—Postage for registered letters was increased Nov. 1, 1909, from 8 cents to 10 cents. Indemnity to owner of lost or rifled registered letter was increased to $50.

TAMELTY.—Industrial Workers of the World, 604 Market street. It is an organization said to hold communistic or socialistic ideas. It is not affiliated with the American Federation of Labor.

WORRIED.—If a soldier has anyone depending on him for support and can prove it, or if he can get a better position out of the army, and can prove it, after he serves one year he can buy himself out.

M. A.—The real estate of wife acquired prior to her marriage, cannot be conveyed without her husband's signature subsequent thereto; unless it be in such condition that it is free from his curtesy and other marital rights.

G. W.—In selecting table linen pull a tiny thread at the edge of the goods. A linen thread is wide and flat, and if broken pulls apart in uneven silken lengths, while cotton threads are nearly round and break off clean and short.

MOBERLY.—Notes are not outlawed by non-payment of interest while the statute of limitation is running. Whenever a payment is made the statutes begin to run from date of last payment. We know of no such form of note as you desire.

STRANGER.—You may consult owner of property as to whether he executed the mortgage you hold. As to the same being mentioned in the warranty deed or not it makes no difference provided the mortgage was recorded prior thereto.

TONY.—Express companies that "go to all the different cities of the United States": American, Adams, National, Pacific, Southern, United States, Wells-Fargo. Rates and list of express offices are obtainable at offices of the companies named.

NEW READER.—Fees in suit for separate maintenance are same as in divorce suits. Default case $25, contested $50. This does not include lawyer's fee. Should the suit be decided in your favor, husband would have to pay your lawyer and the court costs.

SOLID IVORY.—Logwood dye for woolens: Blue vitriol, 6 ounces; boil a few minutes, then dip goods three-fourths hour, airing often; take out goods, make a dye with three pounds logwood; boil one-half hour; dip three-fourths hour and air goods and dip three-fourths hour more. Wash in strong suds.

V. L.—Names for girls: Alexine, Alberta, Alfreda, Blanche, Calfreda, Claudia, Clementine, Edgarda, Edwina, Egberta, Francesca, Hermione, Haroldine, Hermina, Ivana, Jeannette, Josepha, Juliana, Justine, Leonelle, Ottoine, Ottilie, Paula, Paulette, Roberta, Quentina, Stephana, Theodora, Vera, Victorelle, Wilberta, Willa, Winifred.

W. H. B.—Premiums are payable during life of insured under an ordinary life policy and do not close when premiums paid in amount to face of policy. Read your policy contract; there are hundreds of various policy contracts issued by the different life companies and with new ones continually added it is almost impossible to keep tab on them.

O. K.—A physician says: "All remedies that make one sweat do so by depressing the heart action. I do not believe in sweat remedies, any further than the free use of hot water. If the perspiration is not what it ought to be it is simply dependent upon some other condition. It is probably a lack of exercise, or a lack of fluids in the body. I should have more confidence in the vapor bath than anything else. If there is any trouble of the skin that prevents perspiration there is nothing better to excite it than the use of vapor baths. If the hot water baths, exercise, and the free use of drinking water are not sufficient, I would leave the matter to nature, and pay as little attention to it as possible."

HOUSEWIFE.—Spaghetti a la Napolitaine: Make a brown "roux" of a tablespoonful of browned flour and one of butter by stirring them together in a saucepan over the fire. When smooth, add a teaspoonful of onion juice, and, gradually, two cupfuls of strong stock preferably chicken if you have it. Beef or veal stock will do, but not mutton. Stir smooth, and add three tablespoonfuls of tomato catsup or six of strained tomato sauce, a teaspoonful of kitchen bouquet, a quarter teaspoonful of salt and as much Hungarian sweet pepper. The spaghetti should be broken into lengths and cooked tender, but not to breaking, in salted water. The sauce is poured upon the drained spaghetti and the two are cooked slowly together for five minutes.

IGNORANT.—In the natural state a cat's prey comes out at twilight; hence the cat hunts then, and this gives rise to the idea that it sees better in the dark. The iris of the cat's eye is capable of great variation, so as to admit less or more light; thus, on a bright summer day the pupil is a mere vertical slit, but in the dusk it opens enormously, till there is scarcely any of the yellow iris left visible, and this adaptability no doubt enables the cat to see much better in the dusk than we can, for our eyes possess this power of altering the size of the pupil to a much less degree, and the eyes of the cat being sensitive to the ultra-violet rays of the spectrum, would also enable it to see better in the dusk than we can. Then, again, cats are provided with those very sensitive tactile organs, the long hairs on either side of the upper lip, and these are of great assistance to them when moving about in the dark, but in absolute darkness all animals are equally helpless as to their senses of sight, though some may have special organs connected with one of the other senses (as the "feelers" of the cat, and antennae of insects) which enable them to be far better at all in the dark than others.

The Man Who Wins

Traits That Make for Success and the Way to Acquire Them.

By EMORY J. HAYNES.

THE LOVE OF WORK.

TO inspire a boy with the love of work, reason with him. Get him to thinking why work is happiness. Direct his mind to the pleasure of earning and its independence of needing to ask for money.

Point out the correspondence between the delight of play, which is action largely, and the same escape from dullness which work offers.

That father is fortunate who can and must enlist the affections. Ask the lad to consider the help he can render. Father works hard and there are many to feed. Will not the child lend a hand? The father's motive is love, and he awakens it in the son.

Get the idea in early that one should be his own master. He orders himself to work. He is doing what he pleases in taking his fit place among men. His employer is a director only, not a master. Employers are simply animate guide posts, tell what is wanted.

Never speak offensively of work; never disparage one's job in the hearing of a boy. A complaining sigh and a growling protest by the parent sink deep into the child's very soul. He learns by it that work is some monster with power to inflict punishment on those he loves. Such teaching is like ink on white silk—it never comes out.

Never allow the benefit, in some measure to fail to come to the boy. Some part of the wage is his by the eternal law. It is supremely necessary to keep this connection inviolate. To break it once even will require ten times to cure. To work is to get pay, in some way, as surely as the sun is in the heavens. To oppress a child is the meanest cheating in all this world.

No work is wholly congenial—that is, just the job one likes, or likes all the time. But action can always be congenial, if health permits. Leaving out imbeciles and invalids, work is a universal pleasure. But there are those who become enthusiasts. They can never be idle. They pulse with power. They are always conquering something. They dream achievement. They play and toy with forces. They make this old globe vital.

Why, it may be impossible to say, but they just love work. They are really superb creatures and admired by all. If you study them they are so content that you envy them. If you associate with them they master you without trying. They lead everywhere and are never out of work. Indeed, if they had finished the world they would plan another. At their heels follows a troop, dependent and begging. Lovers of work are generous, for they feel within themselves the wealth of creative force.

Not that enthusiastic devotees of work are common, but that we all know one or two, and we have often remarked what a perfect fit this hard old world is to them.

The House of the Whispering Pines

Greatest Detective Story of the Year

By ANNA KATHARINE GREEN

Copyright, 1910, by A. K. Rohlfs.

SYNOPSIS OF PRECEDING CHAPTERS.

Elwood Ranelagh finds Adelaide Cumberland, her fiancee, dead in a country clubhouse. She has been murdered. He is accused of the crime, but refuses to defend himself because he suspects Carmel Cumberland, Adelaide's sister, leaving the clubhouse about the time of the murder. Sweetwater, a famous New York detective, is employed by the Prosecuting Attorney to solve the mystery. Ranelagh is released and Arthur Cumberland is formally accused of murdering his sister. Ranlagh still conceals the fact that he saw Carmel at the clubhouse. Carmel returns to consciousness, but her mind wanders. Her memory is defective and it is thought she will not be a competent witness at the murder trial. Unexpectedly she regains her faculties and resolves to save her brother from the gallows. On the witness stand she tells the startling story of how she seared her own face with a hot poker so that her beauty would not stand between her sister and happiness.

CHAPTER XXX.

"CHOOSE."

"I HAVE not finished," were the first words we heard, when order was restored, and we were all in a condition to listen again.

"I had to relate what you have just heard, that you might understand what happened next. I was not used to pain, and I could never have kept on pressing those irons to my cheek if I had not had strength given me by my own reflection in the glass. When I thought the burn was quite deep enough, I tore the tongs away, and was lifting them to the other cheek when I saw the door behind me open, inch by inch, as though pushed by hesitating touches.

"Instantly I forgot my pain, almost my purpose, watching that door. I saw it slowly swing to its full width, and discloses my sister standing in the gap, with a look and in an attitude which terrified me more than the fire had done. Dropping the tongs, I turned and faced her, covering my cheek instinctively with my hand.

"I saw her eyes run over my elaborate dinner dress—my little handbag and the candle burning in a room made warm with a fire on the hearth. This, before she spoke a single word. Then, with a deep laboring breath, she looked me in the eye again, with the simple question:

"'And where is he?'"

Carmel's head had drooped at this, but she raised it almost instantly. Mine did not rise so readily.

"'Do you mean Elwood?' I asked. 'You know!' said she. 'The veil is down between us, Carmel; we will speak plainly now. I saw him give you the letter. I heard you ask Arthur to harness up the horse. I have demeaned myself to follow you, and we will have no subterfuges now. You expect him here?'

"'No,' I cried. 'I am not so bad as that, Adelaide—nor is he. Here is the note. You will see by it what he expects, and at what place I should have joined him, if I had been the selfish creature you think.' I had the note hidden in my breast. I took it out, and held it towards her. I did not feel the burn at all, but I kept it covered. She glanced down at the words; and I felt like falling at her feet, she looked so miserable. I am told that I must keep to fact, and must not express my feelings, or those of others. I will try to remember this; but it is hard for a sister, relating such a frightful scene.

"She glanced down at the paper and let it drop, almost immediately, from her hand. 'I cannot read his words!' she cried; 'I do not need to; we both know which of us he loves best. You cannot say that it is I, his engaged wife.' I was silent, and her face took on an awful pallor. 'Carmel,' said she, 'do you know what this man's love has been to me? You are a child, a warm-hearted and passionate child; but you do not know a woman's heart. Certainly, you do not know mine. I doubt if anyone does—even he. Cares have warped my life. I do not quarrel with these cares; I only say that they have robbed me of what makes girlhood lovely. Duty is a stern task-master; and sternness, coming into one's life, hardens its edges, but does not sap passion from the soul or devotion from the heart. I was ready for joy when it came, but I was no longer capable of bestowing it. I thought I was, but I soon saw my mistake. You showed it to me—you with your beauty, your freshness, your warm and untried heart. I have no charms to rival these; I have only love, such love as you cannot dream of at your age. And this is no longer desirable to him!'

"You see that I remember every word she spoke. They burned more fiercely than the iron. That did not burn at all, just then. I was cold instead—bitterly, awfully cold. My very heart seemed frozen, and the silence was dreadful. But I could not speak, I could not answer her.

"'You have everything,' she now went on. 'Why did you rob me of my one happiness? And you have robbed me. I have seen your smile when his head turned your way. It was the smile which runs before a promise. I know it; I have had that smile in my heart a long, long time—but it never reached my lips. Carmel, do you know why I am here?' I shook my head. Was it her teath that were chattering or mine? 'I am here to end it all,' said she. 'With my hope gone, my heart laid waste, life has no prospect for me. I believe in God, and I know that my act is sinful; but I can no more live than a tree stricken at the root. Tomorrow we will not need to write notes; he can come and comfort you in our home. But never let him look at me. As we are sisters, and I almost a mother to you, shut my face away from his eyes—or I shall rise in my casket and the tangle of our lives will be renewed.'

"'I tell you this—I bare my sister's broken heart to you, giving you her very words, sacred as they are to me and—and to others, who are present, and must listen to all I say—because it is right that you should understand her frenzy, and know all that passed between us in that awful hour.'

This was irregular, highly irregular—but District Attorney Fox sat on, unmoved. Possibly he feared to prejudice the jury; possibly he recognized the danger of an interruption now, not only to the continuity of her testimony, but to the witness herself; or—what is just as likely—possibly he cherished a hope that, in giving her a free rein and allowing her to tell her story thus artlessly, she would herself supply the clew he needed to reconstruct his case on the new lines upon which it was being slowly forced by these unexpected revelations. Whatever the cause, he let these expressions of feeling pass.

At a gesture from Mr. Moffat, Carmel proceeded:

"I tottered at this threat; and she, a mother to me from my cradle, started instictively to catch me; but the feeling left her before she had taken two steps, and she stopped still. 'Drop your hand,' she cried. 'I want to see your whole face while I ask you one last question. I could not read the note. Why did you come here?' I dropped my hand, and she stood staring; then she uttered a cry and ran quickly towards me. 'What is it?' she cried. 'What has happened to you? Is it the shadow?—'

"'I caught her by the hand. I could speak now. 'Adelaide,' said I, 'you are not the only one to love to the point of hurt. I love you. Let this little scar be witness.' Then as her eyes opened and she staggered, I caught her to my breast and hid my face on her shoulder. 'You say that tomorrow I shall be free to receive notes. He will not wish to write them, tomorrow. The beauty he liked is gone. If it weighed overmuch with him, then you and I are on a plane again—or I am on an inferior one. Your joy will be sweeter for this break!'

"She started, raised my head from her shoulder, looked at me and shuddered—but no longer with hate. 'Carmel!' she whispered, 'the story—the story I read you of Francis the First and'—

"'Yes,' I agreed, 'that made me think.' Her knees bent under her; she sank at my feet, but her eyes never left my face. 'And—and Elwood?' 'He knows nothing. I did not make up my mind till tonight. Adelaide it had to be. I hadn't the strength to—to leave you all, or—or to say no. If he ever asked me to my face what he asked me in that note,'

"And then I tried to lift her; she was kissing my feet, kissing my dress, sobbing out her life on my hands. Oh, I was happy! My future looked very simple to me. But my cheek began to burn, and instinctively I put up my hand. This brought her to her feet. 'You are suffering,' she cried. 'You must go home, at once, at once, while I telephone to Dr. Carpenter.' 'We will go together,' I said. 'We can telephone from there.' But at this, the awful look came back into her face, and seeing her forget my hurt, I forgot it, too, in dread of what she would say when she found strength to speak.

"'It was worse than anything I had imagined; she refused absolutely to go back home. 'Carmel,' said she, 'I have done injustice to your youth. You love him, too—not like a child but a woman. The tangle is worse than I thought; your heart is caught in it, as well as mine, and you shall have your chance. My death will give it to you.' I shook my head, pointing to my cheek. She shook hers, and quietly, calmly said, 'You have never looked so beautiful. Should we go back together and take up the old life, the struggle which has undermined my conscience and my whole existence would only begin again. I cannot face that ordeal, Carmel. The morning light would bring me daily torture, the evening dusk a night of blasting dreams. We three cannot live in this world together. I am the least loved and so I should be the one to die. I am determined, Carmel. Life, with me, has come to this.'

"I tried to dissuade her. I urged every plea, even that of my own sacrifice. But she was no more her natural self. She had taken up the note and read it during my entreaties, and my words fell on deaf ears. 'Why, these words have killed me,' she cried crumpling the note in her hand. 'What will a little poison do? It can only finish what he has begun.'

"'Poison!' I remembered how I had heard her pushing about bottles in the medicine cabinet, and felt my legs grow weak and my head swim. 'You will not!' I cried, watching her hand, in terror of seeing it rise to her breast. 'You are crazed tonight; tomorrow you will feel differently.'

"But the fixed set look of her face gave me no hope. 'I shall never feel differently. If I do not end it tonight, I shall do so soon. When a heart like mine goes down, it goes down forever.' I could only shudder. I did not know what to do, or which way to turn. She stood between me and the door, and her presence was terrible. 'When I came here,' she said, 'I brought a little phial of poison too, once ordered for sickness. I expected to find Elwood here. If I had, I meant to drop the posion into one glass, and then fill them all up with the cordial. We should have drunk, each one of us his glass, and one of us would have fallen. I did not care which, you or Elwood or myself. But he is not here, and the cast of the die is between us two, unless you wish a certainty, Carmel—in which case I will pour out but one glass and drink that myself.'

"She was in a fever, now, and desperate. Death was in the room; I felt it in my lifted hair, and in her strangely drawn face. If I screamed, who would hear me? I never thought of the telephone, and I doubt if she would have let me use it then. The power she had always exerted over me was very strong in her at this moment; and not till afterwards did it cross my mind that I had never asked her how she got to the house, or whether we were as much alone in the building as I believed.

"'Shall I drink alone?' she repeated, and I cried out 'No!' at which her hand went to her breast, as I had so long expected, and I saw the glitter of a little phial as she drew it forth.

"'Oh, Adelaide!' I began; but she heeded me no more than the dead.

"On leaving home, she had put on a long coat with pockets and this coat was still on her, and the pockets gaping. Thrusting her other hand into ope of these, she drew out a little flask covered with wicker, and set it on a stand beside her. Then she pulled out two small glasses, and set them down also, and then she turned her back. I could hear the drop, drop of the liquor; and, dark as the room was, it seemed to turn darker, till I put out my hands like one groping in a sudden night. But everything cleared before me when she turned around again. Features set like hers force themselves to be seen.

"She advanced, a glass in either hand. As she came, the floor swayed, and the walls seemed to bow together; but they did not sway her. Step by step, she drew near, and when she reached my side she smiled in my face once. Then she said: 'Choose aright, dear heart. Leave the poisoned one for me.'

"Fascinated, I stared at one glass, then at the other. Had either of her hands trembled, I should have grasped at the glass it held; but not a tremor shook those long fingers. I did her eyes wander to the right hand or to the left. 'Adelaide!' I shrieked out. 'Toss them behind you. Let us live—live!' But she only reiterated that awful word: 'Choose!' and I dare not hesitate longer, lest I lose my chance to save her. Groping, I touched a glass—I never knew which one—and drawing it from her fingers, I lifted it to my mouth. Instantly her other hand rose. 'I don't know which is which myself,' she said, and drank. That made me drink, also.

"The two glasses sent out a clicking sound as we set them back on the stand. Then we waited, looking at each other. 'Which?' her lips seemed to say. 'Which?' In another moment we knew. 'Your choice was the right one,' said she, and she sank back into a chair. 'Don't leave me!' she called out, for I was about to run shrieking out into the night. 'I am happy now that it is all settled; but I do not want to die alone. Oh, how hot I am!' And leaping up, she flung off her coat, and went gasping about the room for air. When she sank down again, it was on the lounge; and again I tried to fly for help, and again she would not let me. Suddenly she started up, and I saw a great change in her. The heavy, leaden look was gone; tenderness had come back to her eyes, and a human anxious expression to her whole face. 'I have been mad!' she cried. 'Carmel, Carmel, what have I done to you, my more than sister—my child, my child!'

"I tried to soothe her—to keep down my awful fear and soothe her. But the nearness of death had claimed her poor heart into its old love and habitual thoughtfulness. She was terrified at my position. She recalled our mother and the oath she had taken at that mother's deathbed to protect me and care for me and my brother. 'And I have failed to do either,' she cried 'Arthur, I have alienated, and you I am leaving to unknown trouble and danger.'

Verbatim Report From Congressional Record Showing How Our Statesmen Do It.

Mr. RAINEY: I hope the gentleman from Minnesota will not object to my speaking for ten minutes. The House will have sufficient time—

Mr. TAWNEY: I will say to the gentleman from Illinois I will not object to his proceeding for ten minutes if that will be the end of it—

Mr. RAINEY: That will be the end for today.

Mr. TAWNEY: I have no objection.

The CHAIRMAN: The gentleman from Illinois asks unanimous consent to speak for ten minutes to discuss the subject he has under consideration. Is there objection?

Mr. AUSTIN: Mr. Chairman, I object. I know that the Representative—

The CHAIRMAN: The gentleman will be in order; he has objected.

Mr. RAINEY: Then, Mr. Chairman, I ask unanimous consent at the conclusion of the reading of the bill for ten minutes.

The CHAIRMAN: The gentleman from Illionis asks unanimous consent that at the conclusion of the reading of the bill he may have ten minutes—

Mr. AUSTIN: I object, until the gentleman from California is present—

The CHAIRMAN: The gentleman from Tennessee will suspend—

Mr. RAINEY: The gentleman from California is never here; he is always away making political speeches for his party.

The CHAIRMAN: The gentleman from Illinois asks unanimous consent upon the conclusion of the reading of the bill that he may have permission to address the House for ten minutes.

Mr. AUSTIN: Mr. Chairman, I object.

Mr. RAINEY: I hope the gentleman will get in at the conclusion of the reading of the bill, because I shall ask for permission again.

BAFFLING CUTICLAY!

Mysterious Natural Substance Destroys Skin Disease—Magically Banishes Pimples, Blotches, Blackheads—Eczema, Acne, Tetter, Ringworm, Salt Rheum, Piles, Yield Swiftly to Its Mighty Healing Power—Itching, Broiling Ulcer Drys Up and Disappears—Wonderful Cures Reported—Men, Women, Children, Babes, Share Blessings of Cuticlay—Free Trial Test Offered All Afflicted With Skin Troubles—Try It On Approval Today!

The powerful and mysterious curative properties of Cuticlay destroy all disease germs, bacteria and poisons in the affected tissues. By its remarkable natural ability to draw out every vestige of impurity from the skin and flesh, this marvelous magnetic substance swiftly heals the trouble, leaving the skin in perfect condition, without flaw or blemish, clear, smooth and in perfectly beautiful condition.

WONDERFUL DEMONSTRATION! Hundreds of thousands of dollars have been given away during the last few years by Mr. C. G. Gopsland of Chicago, who is a true philanthropist in every sense of the word. After using Cuticlay he has this to say in its praise: CUTICLAY CO., CHICAGO, ILL. "There was a large, tender, old sore (itching ulcer of salt rheum). It itched and broiled and burned. It was a terrible sore and extended every day, so I feared it might girdle my leg. I really feared it would kill me by slow degrees. I was discouraged till I tried your clay—I had tried so many things that hope was gone. From the first day I was encouraged by the use of your powder, but I had no hope, as the sore was of so long standing. In five weeks the skin was all smooth and free from all ulcer and itching."

CLEARS COMPLEXION Cuticlay acts like magic in removing Pimples, "Blackheads," and other disagreeable eruptions that disfigure the face and ruin the complexion. A blotched and pimpled skin is a terrible handicap, which can easily be removed by a few applications of this healing specific, which clears the "muddiest" complexion and restores the skin to perfect health. Cuticlay has proved a priceless boon to thousands who formerly suffered untold mortification from unsightly facial eruptions. It is not a salve but a powdered substance to be applied before retiring, mixed with an equal amount of water.

TRY IT ON APPROVAL Just in order to prove the wonderful healing power of Cuticlay quickly, all in need may get a 50c package of any dealer, and should Cuticlay by its actual use not prove astounding results, after using half its contents, send us the unused portion and we will refund your 50c without argument. Cuticlay Soap (containing the Cuticlay healing substance) should be used by all whose skin is not perfect. Cuticlay Company, Chicago, Ill.

DR. COMBS TELLS STUDENTS TO LIVE LIKE ROOSEVELT

Declares at Washington U. Commencement Hunter Is Greatest Man on Earth.

DR. W. H. WELCH SPEAKS

175 Graduates Get Degrees From Chancellor Houston.

Delivering the commencement day address at Washington University Thursday, the Rev. Dr. George Hamilton Combs of Kansas City, in a glowing eulogy, held Theodore Roosevelt up to the 175 graduates as the one man of all the men in the world after whom they should strive in the future to pattern their lives.

Not only did Dr. Combs commend the life of Roosevelt as a man, but he had unstinted praise as well for his policies.

Concerning Roosevelt as a man, Dr. Combs said:

"At the magnificent pageant in London at the funeral of King Edward, where one emperor, seven kings, and many princes were, Roosevelt towered head and shoulders over them. He was the biggest man of all."

In referring to what Roosevelt stands for, Dr. Combs took up the subject of race suicide with the assertion:

"There is nothing I know more pitiable than a sterile mind, except a sterile woman.

"Roosevelt Everlasting."

"I want to give you an example," Dr. Combs told the graduates, "of a man who has benefited by the past—Theodore Roosevelt, ex-President of the United States, but everlasting president of the councils of men.

"Although reared in the East, in his cradle days, the mantle and spirit of the West were thrown about him. He might have whitened his hands in the elfete society of Newport, but he preferred to bronze them under the sun of Arizona.

"He is the man unafraid. Bullets did not move him at San Juan Hill and the voices of the bosses in New York fell lightly on his ears. And, more than this, he was absolutely unafraid of the coils of red tape and tradition in the city of Washington.

"There is no place here for the dilettante. Better is it to see a man go down into the muck in politics than to see him poised on a mountain of his own conceit. He can pull himself up out of the muck, but he will never come down from the mountain. Roosevelt has shown that by work a plain American may become greater than any king."

Dr. Welch Praises Washington U.

Dr. William H. Welch, president of the American Medical Society, who followed Dr. Combs, said that he was amazed at the prospects which had been unfolded to him of future opportunities for medical education at Washington University. Dr. Welch said that the new Washington University medical school would be one of the greatest in the world if the present plans were carried out.

Plans which had been made to hold the exercises on Francis field in a tent had to be abandoned on account of wet grounds. The exercises were held in the chapel.

Hundreds of mothers, fathers, brothers and sisters of the graduates could not find room in the chapel. Chairs outside the doors were given them.

Exercises Preceded by Procession.

The exercises were preceded by a procession around the quadrangle, starting from the library building. Dean Snow headed the procession. Behind him walked Chancellor David F. Houston, the Rev. W. C. Bitting and Robert S. Brookings, president of the corporation. Members of the corporation followed.

The graduates in cap and gown followed the members of the corporation. Prof. Charles Galloway played a march on the organ as the procession re-entered the chapel and the graduates filed up to the seats in the front rows.

The exercises were begun with a prayer by the Rev. W. C. Bitting, followed by the addresses of the Rev. Mr. Combs and Dr. Welch.

The dean of each department presented his graduates to Chancellor Houston, who conferred the degrees. The prize of $50 in the law class for a thesis was awarded Sidney T. Able, while Aurelius N. Wegner got the $50 alumni law prize.

FIRST FORMAL CONFERENCE ON RAILROAD BILL HELD

Democrats Not to Be Called in Until Republicans Reach an Agreement.

WASHINGTON, June 9.—The first formal conference on the railroad bill was begun at 11 o'clock today and was adjourned at 1:30 p. m. It was attended by Senators Aldrich and Elkins and Representative Mann of Illinois. Representative Wanger of Pennsylvania was unable to be present.

It is understood that the Democratic members will not be called in until the Republicans tentatively have reached an agreement. The discussion was confined to the Commerce Court feature. Another meeting will be held later this afternoon.

River and Harbor Report Adopted.

WASHINGTON, June 9.—The conference report on the river and harbor bill was adopted in the Senate, by a vote of 45 to 12.

NEWS OF ST. LOUIS SOCIETY

THE wedding of Miss Lucille Palmer Taft and Samuel Rockwell Jr. of Cleveland, O., took place at St. John's Church. The Right Rev. Bishop Tuttle officiated. Mrs. Rockwell is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stillman P. Taft. A reception followed the church ceremony at the Stillman home, 882 Cleveland avenue. The bridal party was led by Misses Dolly Rockwell and Nancy Yancy of Cleveland. The bridesmaids were Misses Laura Jennings, Elsie Delaney of Osceola, Ark., Alma Nevins, Ethel Cone and Amelia Herthel of St. Louis. The bride's attendants wore white lingerie robes over pink satin and carried pink roses. The bridal gown was of white satin and the bride carried lilies-of-the-valley arranged in a shower. Mr. Rockwell had Dr. Ernest Duncan, William Cotton of Cleveland, Nash Mathews of New York, William Rockwell of St. Joseph and Stephen Rockwell as his attendants. The men of the bridal party were all classmates of the bridegroom at Princeton. They departed on Mr. Rockwell's private car for an Eastern bridal journey. They will attend the commencement exercises at Princeton. They will make their home in Memphis, Tenn., for the present.

A bridge party was given by Mrs. F. Alexander Witte Wednesday at Glen Echo Club. At the close of the games a course luncheon was served. Some of the guests were: Mesdames Paul Moll, George J. Kobusch, Alfred Smith, Alfred Bauer, George Willard Teasdale, Otho Ball, James Moores Ball, Culver, James Cahill, Gehner; Misses Pearl and Adele Gehner.

Miss Emma Lee Campbell of Chicago is a guest of St. Louis friends. Miss Campbell served Miss Marie Dillon as one of her bridesmaids Wednesday morning at her wedding to Ruben C. Campbell, her brother.

The marriage of Miss Florence Wyman Richardson and Dr. Roland G. Usher will take place Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Florence Wyman Richardson, in Lebanon. A reception will follow the service at the Artists' Guild.

The wedding of Murray Carleton Jr. and Miss Julia Kettle took place Tuesday in New York. The ceremony was performed at Sherry's, followed by a wedding breakfast. Miss Susan Carleton was prevented from attending Miss Kettle as maid of honor by illness. Mr. and Mrs. Carleton will spend three months in Europe.

Mr. and Mrs. Gehner and their daughters, Misses Adele and Pearl Gehner, have taken possession of their new home in Washington Terrace.

Mr. and Mrs. Jeptha D. Howe have given up their apartments in the Buckingham and taken possession of their new home in Washington boulevard.

Miss Frances Streeter, niece of Mayor Kreismann and William Lingenbrink, brother of Mrs. Kreismann, were married at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kreismann at 7:30 o'clock, Wednesday evening. Mr. Kreismann gave the bride away. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Father F. J. O'Connor of the New Cathedral Chapel. The bride is the granddaughter of Mrs. Frances Kreismann, with whom she has made her home. Only the immediate relatives attended the wedding. There was no reception. A bridal dinner was served Mr. and Mrs. Lingenbrink departing for an Eastern bridal journey. They will go to housekeeping at Rosedale and Washington boulevards upon their return. Miss May Irwin served Miss Streeter as maid of honor and Paul Forbes was best man.

The wedding of Miss Cecelia Becker and Dr. A. L. Tice took place Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Philip Becker, 5736 Etzel avenue. Miss Leonora Becker served her sister as maid of honor and C. A. Sontag was best man. They will make their home in Waynesville, Ind., after a Western bridal journey.

Miss Edith Blankenmeister and H. W. Marschuetz were married Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock. The ceremony took place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Blankenmeister, 1803 Cora avenue. O. F. Blankenmeister was best man. Miss Irene Marschuetz was bridemaid. The Rev. R. F. Jones officiated. After August 1 Mr. and Mrs. Marschuetz will be at home at 5225 Garfield avenue.

TIRELESS JEFF NOW READY TO GO 45 ROUNDS

Big Fighter Has to Be Held Back by Trainers to Prevent His Over-working in Practice.

BY ROBERT EDGREN.

JEFFRIES' TRAINING CAMP, Rowardennan, Cal., June 9.

HARD work is the program in Jeffries' camp now. Jim sets a pace that tires out his entire staff, and yet somehow or other the big fellow is always fresh and in good humor. He works the wrist machine in a style peculiar to himself. While winding the weights up and down by turning the wrist bar, he jigs up and down steadily on his toes. When through Wednesday he turned to me and asked me to feel his forearm.

"This is geat stuff," he remarked. The forearm was good evidence. The huge muscles were tough and fibrous like the strands of a hemp rope.

This training has developed Jeffries to an extent that will amaze people when he appears in the ring at San Francisco. His arms have grown big and his shoulders are broader than I have ever seen them before. It is all lean muscle, too, not an ounce of superfluous fat is left.

Every time I see the big fellow the wonder grows. I can hardly believe my own eyes, having a vivid recollection of Jeffries as he first appeared in New York before making the match with Johnson.

After the wrist machine came a long spell of "fighting" the pulley weights. Jeffries goes at this with extraordinary energy. Grasping the handles in each hand, he turns his back to the wall and goes through the motions of delivering left and right hand punches. He shoots his hands out with tremendous speed in blow after blow, driving against the resistance of the rubber ropes. No sooner was this over than he began pulling on a pair of big soft gloves. Bob Armstrong at the same time puts on a pair weighing five ounces. Jeffries has his partners wear the fighting gloves and uses the soft ones himself. Bob was feeling frisky and full of fight. He tore into Jeffries and slugged like a good fellow.

Armstrong is six feet three and weighs 230 pounds. Add to this the fact that he is in good, lean shape and that he has trained almost as hard as Jeffries during the past few weeks and is a clever boxer, and one can see that he makes a good sparring partner. Bob jabbed and shot his right over with all his power. Jeffries, watchful as a cat, slipped under the blow and drove his own right into Bob's ribs so hard that the big black fellow grunted and backed away. Jeffries followed him closely, landing lefts and rights wherever he peased. Bob rallied and slugged. At once Jeffries dropped back into his old crouch and stood him off. Then he straightened and rushed Armstrong back until big Bob was forced to run. And even then he could not get away, for Jim was right on his heels and ready to nail him the moment he returned. All through that boxing bout Jeffries showed remarkably swift foot work and an excellent eye for distance.

Eddie Graney, the old-time referee, sat on a bench and watched the bout. Afterwards he came around and asked me what I thought of Jeffries.

"What do you think?" I asked.

"He's in the best shape I have ever seen him," said Graney. "I never saw Jeffries so light and fast before. I doubt that he weighs 220 pounds. He has not worked like this fight since he beat Fitzsimmons for the championship."

Taking into consideration the fact that Graney only a week ago was enthusiastic over Johnson's chances, this statement struck me as rather interesting. Graney has switched to the Jeffries end. So, by the way, many others have also during the past week.

This is a peculiar place. Some time ago, when Jeffries was working his head off and had a grouchy way of meeting peope, the slighted parties went away and knocked as hard as they could. This was, in reality, the cause of many or all the stories belittling Jeffries that were circulated a few weeks back.

Jeffries Money Goes a-Begging Even at the Good Odds of 10 to 7

TODAY the best indication of the rise in Jeffries' stock is the betting. Henry Berry of Los Angeles, a personal friend of Jeffries, and a man who puts down a lot of money every time the champion fights, has been trying to lay a few thousand dollars on Jim, offering 10 to 7. He can't get down a dollar. Other sporting men who have come down here tell me the same tale. They would gladly give $1000 to $700, and they can't find a dollar of Johnson money at these odds. One of these gentlemen told me that he is satisfied Jeffries will enter the ring a 10-to-4 favorite.

"My only chance," he said, "is to lay my bets before the people get wise to Jim's condition. I'd give 2 to 1 and count it like finding money!"

To go back to Jeffries' work. After boxing, he punched the bag for a quarter of an hour and then tried to butt into a handball game. But foxy Jim Corbett, who is trying to discourage too much work, had framed up a match game between himself on one side and Berger and Choynski on the other. Jeffries looked on laughing for a few minutes, and then went in for his rub.

In the afternoon he set out to break the record from Rowardennan to the top of Ben Lomond, a neighboring mountain. The record was 69 minutes. Jeffries started off accompanied by Jack Jeffries, Roger Cornell and Farmer Burns. Bob Armstrong started a little later, but might as well have chased a railroad train. Jeffries was first to reach the summit, making the climb, all up a steep hillside, in 66 minutes and 15 seconds, cracking the record.

It's no wonder that he has taken off weight and that every line of his whole body is clean-cut muscle. I had another talk with Farmer Burns about that.

"Why," said the Farmer, "if you had seen what I've seen you would not wonder at Jim's condition. No other man in the world would have been game enough to work the way he has worked. No, sir, no other man but Jeffries would ever have done it. I tell you, I've watched him day after day and I've pitied him and he never whimpered. He stuck to it like a bulldog. Even the ugly lies and all the mean criticism by people who did not know what they were talking about could not make him let up, although I know it hurt him. And now look at him. I never saw any man like him in all my life. That man can't be beat! He's the gamest man in the world, and he can fight 45 rounds at top speed and never tire."

"Jeffries will just walk through Johnson," said Bob Armstrong. "He's got a peculiar style. You can't hit him and he never misses me."

News Notes of I. L. Teams

The Western Military Academy baseball team closed its season Monday afternoon by decisively defeating the Yeatman High team, finishing in third position in the championship race. In the East Side League, composed of teams representing Alton, East St. Louis, Belleville, Collinsville, Edwardsville and Western, the Cadets completely outclassed all of their rivals, winning every game, with about an average of 10 runs per game, to two for the opposition.

In Monday's closing game the Cadets were in fine form. They registered six runs to one for Yeatman, punched out eight safeties and stole 12 bases. Yeatman could find Chilton for only four hits. The North Siders put up a miserable defensive game, nine errors being charged to them.

Burns, Crawford, Peeples and Roper will be lost next year to the Cadets through graduation. Coach Bolen, the youngest coach in the I. L., will also be an absentee from the Alton institution, as next year he will resume the duties of coach of the Shattuck M. A. of Faribault, Minn., one of the best military schools in the country. Coach Bolen is a graduate of De Pauw University, for which school he ran the mile.

Pitcher Chilton sweetened his batting average against Yeatman, punching out two hits out of three trips.

Pitcher Beers of the McKinley High team wielded the kalsomine brush against the Yeatman High team Wednesday afternoon, the count standing 4 to 0 when J. Pluvius put a halt to the hostilities in the seventh inning. Beers was in good form and the North Siders in that period were only able to garner one hit off his delivery. On the other hand the South Siders touched Ballman freely after the third and succeeded in scoring in each session until the game was called. Lin Milford started the scoring in the fourth after he had made a safety. In the fifth two more were shoved across, while in the sixth another was added. The defeat shoves Yeatman down in fifth position, and puts McKinley fourth. McKinley has one more game to play with Soldan, and if they win, which they most naturally will, they will be tied for third place with Western. Beers and Nece worked for McKinley, while Ballman and Henske were on duty for the North Siders. Fidler umpired.

JEFFRIES' TRAINING CAMP, ROWARDENNAN, Cal., June 9.

IF any ordinary man worked the way Jeffries does I'd say he was going too fast a clip with the fight nearly a month away, but Jeffries isn't an ordinary man and the toughest day finds him fresh at the finish. He does not feel the strain. The reason of this, I think, is the fact that up to date he hasn't shown the slightest sign of nerves.

A day or two before the Fourth perhaps he'll begin to figure on what kind of a fight Johnson is going to give him. Then he may be a little bit on edge; for that matter, I wouldn't give a dollar for the chances of any man who went into a fight or a match of any kind without being nervous. It's only the loggy, heavy fighter who has no nerves, and the man without nerves has no speed, either, when the test comes. The way Jeffries will be on edge as I figure it, is with the kind of nervousness that puts speed into a man. He'll be anxious to get at Johnson and finish him as quickly as possible.

He has been training for over a year now, and the moment when he looks down at Johnson and listens to the count will be the happiest in his life.

For months he has been training more faithfully than any man ever before did, unless it was myself, when I trained for the Coney Island fight with Jeffries. He has the fight in his mind every minute, except when he is out fishing or hunting over the hills.

Jeffries is the most doggedly determined man in the world. When he goes at anything he puts everything he has into the effort.

This is the lightest-hearted fighting camp I ever saw, and I've been in a few.

Eddie Graney is among the visitors. He has been following Jeffries around the grounds, and the gym and watching his work. Graney says he never saw Jim looking in better shape before any of his fights. That seems to be the general opinion of all who come to see him. The people who see Jeffries first in the ring at San Francisco are going to be surprised. It is impossible to describe in words the effect of the hard grind he has just finished. From this time on all of our efforts will be devoted to helping him put the finishing touches to his speed and boxing skill.

O'CONNOR SPURNS JENNINGS' OFFER

Pitcher Bill Bailey of the Browns was traded to the Detroit club for Catcher Beckendorf, according to a rumor afloat in St. Louis Wednesday. Manager O'Connor, though, denied that there was any truth to the report. He stated that during the last visit to St. Louis of the Detroit club Manager Jennings tried to make a deal for the former Texan.

Jennings was willing to give up Beckendorf, but O'Connor would not make the trade even up. O'Connor said he believed that negotiations were off, but it is possible that a deal involving Beckendorf and probably a Detroit infielder may result later.

Infielder Mee, from a semi-professional club in Chicago, has been added to the Browns' squad. He was highly touted to Manager O'Connor, who says he will give the youngster an opportunity to show his class.

President Hedges and Harry Howell of the Browns' scouting department are both out of the city. Secretary Rickart says he doesn't know where owner or former pitcher are. It's a safe bet, though, that tney are in the bushes looking for future Cobbs, Mathewsons and Gibsons.

GIANTS PULL A NEW PLAY AT EXPENSE OF CARDINALS

In the first game with the Cardinals Monday the Giants pulled off a new play. It was like this: Seymour was on second, with one out. Bridwell planned to make a bluff to bunt toward third and draw Third Baseman Mowrey in, and then let the ball go by, giving "Si" a great chance to steal. Seymour started too early, and Mowrey raced back to third. This was as "Brid" anticipated, and, instead of letting the ball pass, he bunted in along the third-base line. On his way back to cover his base Mowrey saw the Giant shortstop bunting, but he was caught flatfooted, too late to go after the ball and too late to get Seymour at third.

Both runners were safe as a consequence, and a moment later "Si" scored on a sacrifice fly.

OVERALL'S INJURY A BLOW TO CUBS' RACE FOR FLAG

PHILADELPHIA, June 9.—Pitcher Orval Overall of the Cubs is out of the game for several weeks at least. Manager Chance last night sent Overall to Youngstown, O., to consult a physician about the condition of his injured shoulder. From there Overall will go to Chicago to await the coming of the team.

Overall hurt his arm in Boston while pitching a curve.

WRAY'S COLUMN

BILL CLARKE, the "Belfast Chicken" of the days when prize fighters settled troubles on turf, with the "bare 'uns," and sometimes with the feet, teeth or other available appurtenances is to appear in the ring again, at the age of 84. This was virtually decided Wednesday, when Bill received a letter from William Delaney, who is arranging the preliminary for the big fight at Frisco July 4, stating that expenses and $500 would be the portion of the "chicken" if he would meet old Jem Mace in a four-round exhibition. The acceptance of Mace, himself aged 79, was expected at any time, according to Delaney.

'Twas a kindly thought on his part who first suggested bringing these two bits of flotsam from a bygone century into a familiar port, at the close of a long life of buffeting. It was fitting that these two men, who in times past have stood for the highest that the pugilism of the day meant, should not end their historic careers by slinking unnoticed into oblivion. It was fitting, too, that these toothless gladiators should be part of the greatest pugilistic spectacle that history has ever known—or probably ever will have a chance to record again.

Perhaps the goal may not be a high one, but such as the lives of these men have been, it stands to them for the perfect climax.

It will be their last appearance—and what a one it will be! Then back to the armchair and the Mirror of Life and memories of days when the red corpuscle sang exultantly through veins now stiffening with age.

Father Time Wins!

THE exhibition will be just a farce, of course—one-minute rounds—and Old Bill is destined to win from his ancient foe, if a decision on points be rendered; for although Bill is some five years the senior of Mace, he is still oaken in timber, while Mace is approaching the tottering stage. And never believe the "Chicken" isn't game.

"I'll start at once to get fit," said Bill Wednesday, pathetically, forgetful of the years that weighed him down. "I'll do a turn in the bawths and take some salts. A little exercise each day and I'll be ready for the blooming champion," and Bill chuckled in his white beard. "Champion! Blow me; mebbe he was a champion oncet; but old Daddy Time took the belt away from 'im a bloody time ago." He thought a little while and the water filled the little pale blue eyes; but he smiled cheerfully through tne mist as he added: "And say, the old gentleman with the cutter, he's landed rawther 'eavy on me, too, ain't 'e?"

Only on the outside, Bill. Old Daddy Time hasn't even touched the core.

In referring to the Browns' corps of pitchers, wouldn't it be a dreadful mistake if the printer should add a final "e" to that corps?

REMEMBER how we dealt about us last year with the hammer, Mr. McAleer being the recipient? McAleer was pilloried for using the "army game" which, briefly, is playing everything safe and not taking chances. It is sacrificing men around and playing for the single count. McAleer was unable to make enough runs to get away with it, for he did not have the pitchers who were able to hold the opposition to three or four runs a game—a necessity, almost, under this system of attack.

But take the case of Frank Chance, of the Cubs, who has now turned to the "army tactics" with his celebrated Chicago Cubs. Finding that his team speed was not equal to the hit-and-run game, Chance turned to the sacrifice as a solution. And he won seven straight games and shoved his team into first place in the National League race.

Chance, however, had the advantage of McAleer in having a good pitching staff to support his men. The opposition could not make many runs off his pitchers and the Cubs, therefore, could get away with the sacrifice game.

Each style of play has its uses, according to the personnel of the team concerned. The hit-and-run managers of the two leagues are about equal in number to the "army game" exponents; and their success is about equally divided according to respective team positions in the leagues.

Lajoie, Batting Marvel.

TYRUS COBB is climbing steadily on the heels of Lajoie, who marvelously keeps up in the .400 division of batters. Lajoie is today hitting .410, a truly remarkable figure under the present rules. And Lajoie has been maintaining this average all season. He will probably come back some ere the season ends and Cobb will gain a bit, so that the race promises to be something beyond the ordinary this year.

However, Cobb has the field to himself for allround efficiency and is, so far, easily the champion player of the year. For Wagner is suffering from rheumatism, while Lajoie cannot compare with Cobb in any particular save hitting. Napoleon has stolen but four bases, to 27 for Cobb. Tyrus also leads Lajoie sadly in run getting and in extra base hitting. Cobb is the marvel of the baseball world today and if he had been bred to an infield berth, where his defensive play would have been more conspicuous, he would have undoubtedly classed just as high as Wagner in this department.

George Stone is climbing in the batting. Off to a wretched start, each week sees the one-time leader of the league gaining on his previous week's figures. Stone is now hitting .276 and leading the team. He is also driving in an occasional run or two, which is bound to happen more frequently as his hitting betters.

Griggs is batting .236 and gaining slowly. If Arthur could once get settled to his stride he might rise to the notch that made him a valuable man at bat last season. It seems, however, that opposing pitchers have sized up Griggs' deliberate swing.

93 GOLFERS IN CITY TOURNEY

List Includes the Pick of Players From St. Louis Golf Association.

Unless entries received Thursday afternoon swell the total at the eleventh hour, the city golf tournament entry list will close with 93 players, including the pick of the stars of St. Louis. The list includes both Stickney boys, Harry Allen, Ralph McKittrick, Chris Kienney and others of the old guard who have for years been the principal competitors for the local and state championships.

The Stickneys are the favorites for the race, on the strength of their many previous efforts. Since the city championship was inaugurated, almost a decade ago, these brothers have one or the other of them been in the finals. One year the brothers played it out for the championship. Stuart Stickney won the first cup three times and thereby acquired permanent possession of it.

On the horizon is a new star, A. S. Martin, entered from Algonquin, but a member of the Normandie Club also. Mr. Martin is the dark horse of the tournament and one of the best golfers known to the city. If he continues through the tournament in the form he has been showing privately he will win the tournament to a certainty. Mr. Martin has played golf informally in this city for years, but this is the first season he has entered the competitive game here. He has had experience on the links of some of the best clubs of the country.

Following are the entries from the various clubs in the City Golf Association, under whose auspices the tournament will begin June 11:

Algonquin—J. C. Jones, T. B. Boyd, A. S. Martin, F. J. Thomurs, Dan A. Hill, F. M. Canter, A. R. Deacon, George K. Andrews, Chris Kenney.

Log Cabin Club—C. Norman Jones, G. W. Wright.

Belleville Club—E. M. Gould, E. W. Lansing, E. B. Fay, W. J. Gibson, L. W. Martin, Harry Allen.

Country Club—Henry Potter, H. W. Simpkins, Ralph McKittrick, S. G. Stickney, C. W. Scudder, W. A. Stickney, Clarkson Potter, W. G. McRee Jr., Samuel C. Davis, Gerald B. Allen, D. D. L. McGrew, Edward C. Elliott, Edward A. More, A. B. Lambert, Fred H. Semple.

Triple A—George F. Powell, D. A. Fletcher, Charles L. Gilphin, Ed A. Limberg, Wm. R. Orthwein, Charles E. Temple, J. W. Bowman, C. A. Piepho, W. S. Ford.

Glen Echo Club—John O. Ballard, A. L. Johnson, F. E. Newberry, George S. McGrew, R. W. Fullerton, J. W. Bemis, J. P. Cabanne, I. W. Lincoln, George H. Lee, J. G. Brandt, M. Harbaugh, T. W. Carter Jr., J. W. Carleton, Alfred Clark, J. H. Koehler, F. E. Gardner, O. L. Halsey, B. H. Pollock, H. C. Collins.

Westwood Club—M. J. Florsheim.

Short Putts

Today is the last day on which your name can be entered for the city tournament.

One or the other of the Stickney brothers has been in the finals of the city championship ever since its inauguration nine years ago. Will we again say "'twas ever thus?"

In the driving contest each entry is allowed three trials and record kept of the longest one. Thus a man who is only an average driver may get a lucky drive and win first money. Would it not be a better method to take the average of the three drives of each contestant?

The Country Club had a match recently with a team from Kansas City and Westwood will meet a team from Cincinnati here this month. Matches of this kind ought to be played by every club in the city, as they are not only very pleasureable affairs, but the players would find them a great factor in bettering their game.

This brilliant sixsome, in a practice round at Normandie, got a net score of 62 by counting the best ball on each hole. William Duffy, Fred McLeod, Tom Carter, Jesse Carleton, Chris Kenney and Jim Bemis.

Many of the city championship aspirants now practicing at Normandie are turning in scores every day from 78 to 82. Wonder how these will compare with those turned in on Saturday in the qualifying round.

ANSWERS

W. O. N.—In 81 games with Memphis last season, Daubert batted .314.

E. V.—Jeffries knocked out Fitzsimmons in eight rounds in San Francisco, July 25, 1902.

Reader.—Graham of Browns won six and lost seven games in 1908; won eight and lost 14 in 1909; won none, lost eight in 1910.

T. T.—Catcher Killefer of Browns was obtained from Houston (Texas League) team. He's a brother of Wade Killefer of Washington team.

DENVER PLAYERS THREATEN TO GO ON STRIKE TODAY

DENVER, Colo., June 9.—There is a chance that the Denver baseball team of the Western League will break up by noon today instead of going to Topeka, as scheduled. Because of trouble culminating in the discharge of Trainer Murbarger by J. F. Gunthorp, part owner, President James C. McGill is said to have notified Gunthorp last night that the partnership would have to be dissolved by 10 a. m. today and offered to buy Gunthorp out.

Manager Hendricks is quoted as saying that unless the deal went through he would leave for Chicago, and that other players would go with him. McGill rescinded the discharge of Murbarger.

Teams to Play Benefit Game.

The Grand-Leader and Model baseball teams are to clash in a benefit game for the Mount St. Rose Hospital on the Christian Brothers College campus, June 19. Manager Brues of the Model team and Manager Davis of the Grand Leaders have strengthened their forces for the contest.

O'CONNOR IS NOW SHAPING HIS 1911 CLUB

JACK O'CONNOR is thinking only of the 1911 Browns. He has come to the realization that there is little chance to advance more than one position in this year's race, and will devote his time towards building a winner for next season.

IT is necessary for the Browns to undergo a reconstruction, just as did the Boston Americans, Philadelphia Athletics, New York Americans and the St. Louis Cardinals.

All the teams mentioned decayed when former stars outgrew their usefulness and it was necessary to reconstruct the clubs from new blood.

O'Connor fell into a hard job when he assumed the management of the Browns. He was left anything but good material with which to make a showing. But Jack knows where the trouble lies and has set himself to constructing a team that will prosper next year.

Finding it impossible to obtain major league ball players from other American League club owners, he has told Owner Hedges to purchase promising minor league talent. "You have to develop your own ball players nowadays," says O'Connor "as the other fellows won't give you any help."

So from now on 't is very probable that there will be frequent changes in the Browns' lineup, new players for the most part being used in the places of the veteran members of the team. It's up to the old-timers to show real class, hereafter, or submit to displacement by the newer and younger talent that O'Connor hopes to have in line before the season ends.

O'Connor has the right idea about not worrying over this year's team. Connie Mack found himself in the same fix, several years ago On one trip through the West, he had only a couple of the veteran members of his team in the party. The others were all youngsters and in the three or four weeks that the Athletics were on the road, Mack learned the caliber of the young men he had in tow. When the team reported the following spring, he also had a good line on what his club would be composed of. That same club is now one of the foremost contenders for pennant honors this year.

The same was the case with the old Boston Plymouth Rocks. Jimmy Collins, Hobe Ferris, Freddie Parent, Young, Criger, Dinneen and the other players of that team had won pennants and a world's championship, but soon slowed up until Owner Taylor decided to weed out the veterans. Now not a single member of that old aggregation is a member of his club, while the youngsters playing in their places are up high in the race.

John McCloskey, too, left Roger Bresnahan but little with which to make a winner with the Cardinals. It took Roger a whole year to do a lot of switching, purchasing and trading. But now he has a team that is worrying the best of them.

So it will have to be with O'Connor. He knows what his old-timers can do and he knows which will warrant retention. But young men will be lined up in the hope that some of them will show enough ability to replace some of the other fellows.

"I'm not paying so much attention to my present team," stated O'Connor to the Post-Dispatch. "I know what Lake can do and I know what Powell can do. But I'm not going to try to pitch those fellows every day. It's the young fellows I am interested in. They will be given the opportunity to show their class."

S. S. S. CURES ECZEMA, ACNE, TETTER, ETC.

Eczema, Acne, Tetter, Salt Rheum, etc. are simply the ulceration of skin tissues, caused by humors and acids in the blood. The circulation has become infected with impurities which are being constantly deposited into the pores and glands of the cuticle, and a continual state of inflammation and irritation is thus kept up. Just as long as these humors and acids remain in the circulation the skin affection will continue. The trouble may be temporarily soothed and covered over with external applications, but such treatment does not make the blood any purer, and can therefore be of no permanent benefit. To cure any skin disease it is necessary to purify the blood—remove the cause. S. S. S. Cures Eczema, Acne, Tetter, Salt Rheum, pimples, eruptions, etc. because it is the greatest of all blood purifiers. It goes into the circulation and drives out every humor acid or impurity. It cools the feverish blood and allows it to furnish the skin with healthy nourishment, instead of fiery, acrid deposits. S. S. S. is purely vegetable, mild and pleasant in its action, it does not cure skin disease by forcing all the impurity to the surface, but stimulates the excretory members to carry it off through the natural avenues. If you have any skin affection you can not do better than purify your blood with S. S. S. It will assist nature in quickly restoring the smooth, even texture of the cuticle, and the cure will be permanent and lasting. Book on Skin Diseases free to all. N. Y. MARKET ON UPWARD TURN; LIGHT TRADING

General List Around Best Prices of the Day at Closing.

NEW YORK, June 9, 12:30 p. m.—The market, during the forenoon hours, was stagnant. Sales to noon amounted to little more than 200,000 shares. With call money in New York at 2½ per cent and the Bank of England's discount rate reduced to 3 per cent, it was generally expected that the market would take a strong upward move, but changes in a large majority of the list were insignificant.

Smelting, Amalgamated and Utah Copper gained ¼ each, Steel preferred ⅛, Steel common ⅝ and Consolidated Gas 1 point.

Colorado Fuel, North American and Canadian Pacific had not opened up to noon.

In the rails section B. R. T., C. & O., Erie, L. & N., Reading and Southern Pacific advanced ¼ each, B. & O. ⅞, Northern Pacific and Union Pacific 1 each, Great Northern 1½, and St. Paul 1¾ points. Atchison, M., K. & T., Mo. Pacific, New York Central and the Rock Island and Wabash stocks were unchanged. Sales to noon, 232,700 shares.

Unimportant changes from the closing marked the opening of the stock market today. In the initial transactions prices moved up and down in an irregular manner, with a majority of the list showing gains.

In the industrials, Amalgamated lost ½ point. Smelting gained ⅛, Steel common ¼, and Steel preferred and Consolidated Gas were at parity. Colorado Fuel, Anaconda, Lead and North American were inactive.

In the railway list Union Pacific declined ⅛, Great Northern ¼, Rock Island ½, and St. Paul ¾. Northern Pacific and Reading advanced ⅛ each, C. & O. ¼, New York Central ⅜, Atchison and Pennsylvania ½ each, and B. R. T. ⅝ point; B. & O. declined ½. Southern Pacific and Wabash preferred were unchanged. Canadian pacific, Erie, L. & N., M., K. & T., Mo. Pac. and Wabash were inactive in the early trading.

There were practically no changes in prices at the end of the first half hour, but the tendency appeared to be downward. Nearly all the trading was confined to the Harriman Pacifics, Steel common and the Copper stocks.

American securities in London were firm and from ⅛ to ⅜ above parity.

DETAILED REPORT OF DAY'S TRADING ON WALL STREET

NEW YORK, June 9.—Opening prices of stocks today were irregularly changed from last night and the volume of dealings was light. The reduction in the Bank of England discount rate helped the London market and affected some of the International stocks here. International Harvester rose ⅝ and St. Paul and Utah Copper declined ⅝.

Slight reactions developed resistance and the tendency was upward on very dull trading. Professionals hesitated to operate on account of divergent news of the prospect announced by railroad officials. Gains were made in American Sugar of 1⅜, Colorado and Southern, Great Northern preferred and Virginia-Carolina Chemical 1⅛. Northern Pacific, American Steel Foundries 1¼, and Union Pacific and St. Paul 1. Chicago & Alton declined 2, St. Louis Southwestern preferred 1¼, and Toledo, St. Louis & Western preferred 1. Bonds were irregular.

The market fell 1¼ under yesterday's closing and Amalgamated Copper 1. Large buying orders were then executed in United States Steel and various railroad stocks and the list turned strong, prices generally rising well above last night. United States Steel and Consolidated Gas 1 and Kansas & Texas preferred and International Harvester 1¾.

Business contracted greatly and fluctuations were unimportant during the noon hour and below the best prices. American Car and International Pump advanced a point.

Offerings of stocks were light, even when bids were advanced sharply. Louisville & Nashville rose 2¼, St. Paul and St. Louis & San Francisco second preferred 1¾, United States Steel and Iowa Central preferred 1½.

The market closed irregular and very dull. The rise was extended, placing Union Pacific and Chicago Union Traction preferred 1½ up, Republic Steel 1⅜ and a number of specialties a point or more. Very little was done on the advance. Fractional recessions accompanied a late realizing movement.

RAILROAD NEWS AND GOSSIP

Chesapeake & Ohio will close the current fiscal year with a dividend surplus of approximately $6,300,000, equal to 10 per cent on its $62,799,100 stock. This is the largest divisible surplus in the road's history. The percentages earned on the road's stock in previous years were 6.39 per cent in 1909, 4.43 per cent in 1908, 5.40 per cent in 1907, 7.34 per cent in 1906, and 4.57 per cent in 1905.

Gross earnings for the 10 months ended April 30, were $26,171,000, compared with $21,819,000 a year ago, while net earnings for the same period were $10,578,000, compared with $8,368,000. Gross and net for the fiscal year will be approximately $31,000,000 and $12,500,000 respectively, comparing with $26,630,000 and $10,264,000 last year.

Manufacturers agree that the course of the steel industry over the remainder of the year will depend largely upon the ability of the railroads to raise money to carry on necessary construction and improvement work. Up to a week or two ago sentiment in steel manufacturing circles was cheerful. The belief was general that the railroads, as a result of their ability to float new security issues, combined with an advance in freight rates to offset increased operating repairs in other directions, would enter the market as large buyers of material, which would result in a resumption of a fair percentage of the idle mills and furnaces. As a matter of fact, many of the railroads had either purchased or contemplated purchasing, rails, cars, locomotives and other supplies and equipment.

The rate injunctions put a damper on the enthusiasm of railroads as well as steel interests. The latter were not opposed to a reasonable increase in freight rates, realizing that higher freight rates would be followed by increased earnings which would offset many times over any increase that might arise through additional carrying charges.

COTTON MARKET INFLUENCED BY CABLES AND FAIR BUYING

NEW YORK, June 9.—The cotton market opened steady at unchanged prices to an advance of 5 points, the new crop being relatively firm on the cables and renewed covering. Early fluctuations were more or less irregular with local professionals selling on a theory that the urgent demand from old crop shorts had been satisfied and that the new crop bulge reflected a scattered covering movement which would soon be exhausted, but, generally speaking, the early tone was steady within 2 or 3 points of the opening.

LIVERPOOL, June 9.—Closing—Cotton, spot, good business done; prices 2 points higher. American middling, fair, 8.65d; good middling, 8.35d; middling, 8.21d; low middling, 8.11d; good ordinary, 7.85d; ordinary, 7.60d. The sales of the day were 15,000 bales, of which 1000 were for speculation and export, and included 14,400 American. Receipts none.

Futures opened steady and closed steady. June, 7.86½d; June-July, 7.78d; July-Aug., 7.69d; Aug.-Sept., 7.67½d; Sept.-Oct., 6.87½d; Oct.-Nov., 6.65d; Nov.-Dec., 6.55½d; Dec.-Jan., 6.52d; Jan.-Feb., 6.50½d; Feb.-March, 6.49½d; March-April, 6.48½d; April-May, 6.48d; May-June, 6.48d.

The market became active and excited during the middle of the morning on a renewal of urgent buying by shorts for both old and new crop delivery, as a result of which most of the active months sold into new high ground for the movement at prices ruling some 8 to 10 points over the closing figures of yesterday.

Realizing caused slight reactions later, but the market at midday was unchanged to 1 higher on the old and about 9 to 12 points higher on the new crop positions.

There was nothing in the way of news to explain the advance, but shorts were evidently very uneasy, owing to the failure of the recent market to respond to the favorable weather and when the covering movement started there was little cotton for sale.

It was estimated that one Wall street house alone bought over 30,000 bales, mostly July, on the advance which carried active positions about 15 to 24 points net higher during the early afternoon. Shorts generally were excited buyers.

Spot quiet; middling uplands, 15.20c; middling gulf, 15.45c. Estimated receipts at the ports today, 4000 bales, against 5516 last week, and 4573 last year. For the week, 35,000 bales, against 36,463 bales last week, and 51,323 bales last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans, 1226 bales, against 2606 last year, and at Houston, 520 bales.

NEW YORK, June 9.—Cotton—Spot closed quiet, 20 points higher; middling uplands 15.40c, middling gulf 15.65c. Sales, 9133 bales.

HOGS—The market opened active and prices were 5@10c higher than on Wednesday, and therefore the highest of the week. Packers were slow to enter the market, but later were active operators. The top reached $9.70 and the bulk of the desirable hogs sold from $9.55@9.65. Shippers were anxious for good pigs and lights and they paid the same for them as the medium and heavy hogs were bringing. Packers purchased hogs clear up to the top of the market, but secured the bulk of the mixed hogs at $9.50@9.60. Poor grade pigs and lights sold at $8@9, and fair kinds $9@9.25, while the best lights sold up to $9.70. The market around noon was much better than earlier.

SHEEP—The sheep trade was active and values a dime higher than yesterday. A strong demand prevailed for the better grades that were fat, while those that were not fat were poor sellers. Best lambs went from $9@9.50, yearlings brought $7@7.75, fat mutton sheep $4.25@4.60, good stockers at $4.25@4.75 and bucks $4@4.25. The market closed strong, with the offerings well cleaned up.

HORSES AND MULES—The horse market was fairly active throughout the day. All good, big, useful work horses sold fairly well at very good prices. The auction closed today at noon, all offerings for the week having been disposed of. There were no fresh receipts during the day. The mule trade remains quiet and inactive. Prices remain unchanged on all kinds of miners, pit and good big rugged draft mules. There were no fresh receipts in first hands during the day.

CHICAGO TRADERS MIXED ON GOVERNMENT ESTIMATE

CHICAGO, June 9.—Difference of opinion developed today as to the interpretation to be put on the Government report concerning wheat. Some authorities declared positively that the document was not to be classed as bearish. The majority, however, inclined to an opposite view. Slight responsiveness of European markets to the supposed bearishness of the report tended to induce a disposition to be conservative in drawing conclusions from the official figures as presented. Wet weather southeast also acted as a bar to radical giving way of prices. Offerings were on a decidedly limited scale. The market opened ⅛c to ⅜c lower. September started ⅛c to ⅜c down, at 91c to 91⅝c, rallied to 91½@91⅝c and reacted to 91¼c.

Scattered selling by pit traders and commission houses gave a slightly bearish tinge to corn. September started a shade lower to a shade higher, to 59⅝c to 59¾c, and declined to 59½@59⅝c.

Oats were weak because of the huge crop totals shown in the Government report. September opened unchanged to ⅛c off, at 35¼c to 35⅛c, and steadied at 35¼c.

The light run of hogs West, and the small packing for the week, led to good buying of provisions. Opening figures were 7½c to 20c higher, and there were further gains, but all of the advance was not held. First quotations for the September delivery were $21.82½ to $21.92½ for pork; $12.35 to $12.37½ for lard and $12.40 to $12.42½ for ribs.

Talk of congestion in the July option strengthened quotations a little. Emphatic talk that the Government report was inconclusive caused some further show of bullish feeling in the last 15 minutes. The close was firm, with Sept. ¼c net higher at 91⅜c.

Purchases by shorts and sympathy with wheat made a firm close in corn. Sept. finished ⅛@⅜c net higher at 60c.

THE GOVERNMENT REPORT CAUSES LITTLE CHANGE

Speculation in grain showed little animation today. Prices drifted through only a fractional range and closed slightly above the preceding final figures.

The trade considered the Government report about a standoff. The winter crop figure of 80 was 2.1 per cent below last month's figure, but indicates a yield of about 406,000,000 bu, or only 11,000,0000 bu less than last year.

On the other hand, spring wheat, with the good percentage of 92.8, is helped with an increased acreage of 1,349,090, suggesting a crop of spring wheat of 320,000,000 bu, or 14,000,00 bu more than that of last year. This gives a total crop of 726,000,000 bu, against 700,000,000 a year ago.

Acreage and condition for important spring wheat states follow:

Cables reported prices abroad affected by bearish domestic advices, but firm at the decline. Argentine weather is too dry and Indian farmers' deliveries, in spite of rains and official advices of a good wheat crop, are small. Growers are holding firmly.

Liverpool cables closed ⅝d higher on July wheat and ⅝d higher on Sept. Berlin wheat closed ¼c down, Budapest 1c higher and Antwerp ⅝c higher.

The Price Current says: "Winter wheat in central regions is suffering from some damage by fly and joint worms, but not to an enormous extent. Kansas, Oklahoma, Nebraska and Texas conditions show improvement. Spring wheat condition is very favorable and improved by light rains. Corn is retarded by cold weather. The more early planted is rotting in the ground, necessitating replanting. Late planted has a good stand. Oats condition is good, but slow growth is reported. Warm weather is needed to improve conditions.

Minneapolis cars of wheat today were 159; last week, 113; last year, 119; two years ago, 160. Duluth cars were 44; last week, 14; last year, 6; two years ago, 29. Winnipeg cars were 85 against 51 a year ago.

Local receipts of wheat were 37,886 bu of which 394 were sacks; 26 cars local and 10 through. Last year receipts were 26,000 bu of which 19 cars were local and 6 through.

Chicago reported cash sales since Wednesday's close at 250,000 bu and the trade asserts that there will be less than 2,000,000 bu of contract wheat there by July 1. Some talk of a squeeze of shorts in July is heard on this account, especially should wet weather and a delayed harvest delay the movement of the new crop in the last half of July.

John Inglis wired: "South from Terre Haute general condition poor, fields deceptive. Many look like 12 bu to acre when examined closely will fall down to 8 or 10 bu. Some good fields around Vincennes and Evansville, but average acreage falls down to 8 to 15 bu. Crop is late. Perfect filling will help out, but this is not assured yet."

The Northwestern Miller reported that the Minneapolis flour output for the week decreased 46,845 bbls, the total being 224,325 bbls, against 271,170 bbls last week and 210,545 bbls in 1909. The mills were closed Monday, which added to the decrease. Shipping directions in Minneapolis are fair. No export inquiry.

Minneapolis reported mills good buyers of cash wheat. North Dakota wheat flour sales were reported good.

Minneapolis stocks of wheat decreased 200,000 bu in five days.

Clearances of wheat, none; of flour, 9000 bbls, equivalent to 40,000 bu.

The local cash market was lower in the face of a poor demand and liberal offerings.

Trade in corn showed the buyers mixed over the outlook, an early selling movement being followed by a strong rally and a slightly higher close.

Cables ⅝d lower were offest by bullish weather reports, an unfavorable Price Current report and steady cash markets. There is a good local and shipping demand. Shipments out of Chicago are liberal.

Local corn receipts were 82,500 bu, of which 49 cars local and 26 through, against 71,500 bu, of which 55 cars local and 10 through last year.

Clearances of corn were 6000 bu.

Oats reflected continued favorable weather conditions and a lower cash market, influenced by the favorable Government report.

Local oats receipts were 40,000 bu, of which 18 cars were local and 7 through; against 20,800 bu, or 13 cars, local last year.

Clearances of oats were 20 bu.

BANK OF ENGLAND.

LONDON, June 9.—The weekly statement of the Bank of England shows the following changes:

Total reserve, increased, £1,423,000.
Circulation, decreased, £369,000.
Bullion, increased, £1,054,289.
Other securities, decreased, £1,275,000.
Other deposits, increased, £479,000.
Public deposits, increased, £1,894,000.
Notes reserve, increased, £1,395,000.
Government securities, increased, £2,245,000.

The proportion of the bank's reserve to liability this week is 51.07 per cent; last week it was 50.73 per cent.

SUGAR MARKET.

NEW YORK, June 9.—London cables show that cane is firm and rather dearer; Java, 14s 7½d.

Beet is firmer with increased demand; June, 14s 6d; July, 14s 6⅝d; August, 14s 7½d.

Local refined sugars are quoted on the basis of 5.15 cents, less 1 per cent for standard granulated.

The local raw sugar market was firm, with Centrifugal, 96 test, at 4.24 cents; muscovado, 89 test, at 3.74 cents, and molasses sugar, 89 test, at 3.49 cents. The continued firmness of the European markets is helpful to New York, and a firmer trend of prices for the refined product is also a bullish factor.

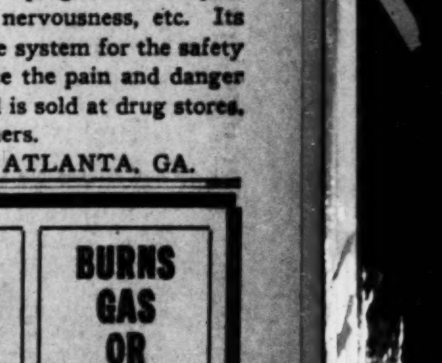
DISCOUNT RATE REDUCED.

LONDON, June 9.—The directors of the Bank of England, at their weekly meeting today, reduced the minimum of discount from 3½ to 3 per cent. The influx of gold is improving the reserve and caused the reduction, while the bank's purchases of treasury bills made money more plentiful in the open market.

MOTHER'S FRIEND



A LINIMENT FOR EXTERNAL USE.

No woman who bears children need suffer during the period of waiting, nor at the time of baby's coming, if Mother's Friend is used as a massage for the muscles, tendons and glands of the body. Mother's Friend is a penetrating, healthful liniment which strengthens the ligaments, lubricates and renders pliant those muscles on which the strain is greatest, prevents caking of the breasts by keeping the ducts open, and relieves nausea, backache, numbness, nervousness, etc. Its regular use will prepare every portion of the system for the safety of both mother and child and greatly reduce the pain and danger when the little one comes. Mother's Friend is sold at drug stores. Write for our free book for expectant mothers.

THE BRADFIELD COMPANY, ATLANTA, GA.

TWO RANGES IN ONE.

BURNS GAS OR COAL.

THIS is the champion interchangeable gas and coal range. Something entirely new, works like a charm. Just the range you have been wishing for. Your kitchen is small, you need the room. This will do all that your gas and coal ranges will do, with less fuel and less room, and only one range to keep clean. Whatever you do, don't buy a gas or coal range until you have seen it demonstrated at any one of our three stores. None other will please you after seeing the Champion.

STOCKHOLDERS' MEETING—Missouri, Kansas & Texas Railway Co.; notice of special stockholders' meeting; notice is hereby given that a special meeting of the stockholders of Missouri, Kansas & Texas Railway Co. has been called by the board of directors of said company, to be held at the general office of the company, in the City of Parsons, Kansas, on Saturday, the 30th day of July, 1910, at 10 o'clock a. m., for the following purposes: (a) To consent to, approve and authorize an increase of the bonded indebtedness of the company by the creation of mortgage gold bonds of the company, to be limited to a principal amount at any one time outstanding of not exceeding $125,000,000 in gold coin of the United States; such bonds to bear interest from April 1, 1910, at such rate, or rates, not exceeding 5 per cent per annum, as the board of directors of the company may, from time to time, determine; to mature at such date; to be issuable for such purposes and in such denominations; to be payable, both principal and interest, at such place or places, in such currency or currencies and at such fixed rate, or rates, of exchange, and to be in such form and to contain such terms and provisions as said Board may determine; (b) to consent to, approve and authorize the execution and delivery to secure said bonds of a mortgage and deed of trust on and of the railroads, equipment, franchises and property, including corporate stocks and obligations owned by the company at the date of the execution and delivery of such mortgage and deed of trust, or at any time thereafter acquired by it by the use of any of such bonds or their proceeds; (c) to approve the form and terms of such mortgage and deed of trust, or to authorize the board of directors, in its discretion, to determine the form and terms thereof and the property of the company to be embraced therein; (d) to ratify and confirm and to authorize and consent to any action theretofore taken or authorized by said board of directors and which may be submitted to the meeting, whether for the purposes of or in connection with or in contemplation of any of the matters aforesaid or otherwise; and (e) to transact such other business as may be brought before the meeting. The stock transfer books of the company will be closed for such meeting on Thursday, the 30th day of June, 1910, at 3 o'clock p. m., and will be reopened on Monday, the 1st day of August, 1910, at 10:00 o'clock a. m. Dated Parsons, Kansas, May 31, 1910; by order of the board of directors.
EDWIN HAWLEY, Chairman of the Board.
C. N. WHITEHEAD, Secretary.

Lost and Found

IF YOU LOSE ANYTHING—Advertise it here. It will be returned to you if an honest person finds it. Remarkable recoveries are brought about every day through this column. All druggists receive Want Ads for the Post-Dispatch at office rates.
Advertisements received after 11:40 a. m. will be inserted in later editions on "Market" page.
IF YOU FIND ANYTHING bring it to the Post-Dispatch Lost and Found Bureau, 210-212 North Broadway.
Get a claim check. Have it advertised. Reclaim it if the owner does not.
THE LAW—People who find lost articles are interested in knowing that the State Law (Sections 8475 to 8480, Revised Statutes of Missouri, 1899) is strict in requiring them to seek the owners through advertisement and otherwise, and that a failure to do so, if same can be proven, involves a severe penalty.

COL. MERIWETHER SAVED CITY FROM 'CARPET-BAGGERS'

Southerner Ended Memphis' Entity as Municipality to Prevent Looting.

WAS MADE RECEIVER

Although Plan Was Scoffed at, He Retrieved Community From Huge Debt.

The body of Col. Minor Meriwether, receiver of the City of Memphis, one of the most picturesque figures of the days of the reconstruction, was buried Wednesday afternoon in Bellefontaine Cemetery. The funeral was from the Confederate veteran's late residence, 3716 Delmar boulevard.

Col. Meriwether was a soldier, engineer and lawyer, but it was in the unique position of receiver of Memphis that he earned a niche in the history of municipalities. There have been other receivers for cities since 1870, but Col. Meriwether was the originator of the scheme and the one who brought "the wild dream" to a successful termination.

Col. Meriwether's plan for a receiver for Memphis was suggested by him as a stroke of strategy to deliver the city from the hands of the "carpet baggers."

"Carpet Baggers" Gain Control.

After the Civil War, the white population of Memphis, which had been in sympathy with the Confederate cause, was disfranchised and the municipality turned over to the "carpet-baggers" and the negroes. Thousands of dollars in bonds were sold to pave streets that were never paved and to build parks that were never built. The "carpet-baggers'" administration bonded the city for millions. The bonds might have been repudiated if they remained in the hands of the first purchasers, but they had been passed on to "innocent third parties." When the city was retrieved there was a huge debt. Those who owned property saw it was in danger of confiscation.

The bondholders had only to go into the Federal court and get a writ of mandamus to compel the tax officials to make a levy sufficient to pay the amount on their bonds. The greatest legal talent of the South could devise no means to thwart the "innocent third party" bondholders.

Scoffed at by Lawyers.

At that time Col. Meriwether was not a lawyer, but he was a property owner. He was disgusted with the failure of lawyers to check the levies which were eating up his property. He began to search the law books for a way to stop it.

When he thought he had found it, he called a mass meeting. When he unfolded his plan, the lawyers scoffed at him. Memphis dissolve and become a nonentity? Impossible! Memphis was there to stay. The only thing that could put it out of existence would be fire or floor, and even fire had not leveled it in the war.

"But we can lose our official entity," Col. Meriwether argued. "Let us have the Legislature take back our charter. There will then be no Memphis and no bonds to pay."

Finally he had his way. So did the Tennessee General Assembly. It passed a bill declaring Memphis out of existence and Col. Meriwether its receiver. He was given the town to bury. The fact was brought to the attention of the Federal Court and the Court laughed at Meriwether and the act of the Legislature.

"Ridiculous," said the court. "Memphis is still here. Look out the window and you'll see it all about you."

All Just Debts Paid.

But Col. Meriwether was not finished. He had studied and was admitted to the bar. He appealed to the United States Supreme Court and to the surprise and delight of Memphis that court held that the city was no longer in existence. Whatever was left of it was in Meriwether's charge.

Col. Meriwether established himself in the City Hall and prepared to run the city his way. There was none to interfere. What was Memphis became the Taxing District of Tennessee, under the government of a commission appointed by the Governor. Meriwether had to do only with what had been Memphis.

He organized a corps of collectors and sent them to collect the taxes that he judged should be collected. Anyone to whom the late city owed money came to Meriwether to collect the bill.

Compelled to Flee Plague.

When Meriwether deemed the bill just, he paid it out of the funds his collectors had raised. But the holders of the "carpet bag" bonds took what he was willing to allow them.

Many of them held off, waiting to see whether the city would not spring into existence again. But Memphis remained legally buried until a few years ago, when all claims having been satisfactorily adjusted, the Taxing District of Tennessee was recognized into the city of Memphis.

Col. Meriwether is survived by his son, Lee Meriwether, and by his widow, Elizabeth Avery Meriwether. Col. Meriwether came to St. Louis from Memphis in 1880, having been forced to quit the city by a yellow fever epidemic.
